Bury Attempt To Cut Funds

By DON WALTON
Star Staff Writer

An effort to reduce the proposed $23.0 million state capital construction program for the 1965-67 biennium by about $3.6 million was buried in the Legislature Thursday on a 10-5 vote.

The effort, mounted by Sen. Henry Pedersen Jr. of Omaha, would have cut the proposed 3.2 special property tax mill levy to finance the program to 2.7 mills, thus reducing revenue by $1.8 million annually.

Once the Pedersen amendment was axed, LB390 was advanced to final reading on a strong voice vote.

6-year Plan
The bill proposes a $68.5 million, six-year capital construction program for state agencies. Future Legislatures will review the program proposed beyond the 1965-67 biennium.

Meanwhile, the Legislature's Budget Committee decided to recommend amendments to the operating budget bill for education, welfare and public institutions increasing general fund appropriations by another $1,275,740.

The bill, LB889, currently resting on select file, already calls for general fund spending increases totaling some $148 million for the coming biennium.

Amendments
Committee amendments will seek an additional $538,047 for mental hospitals at Lincoln, Hastings and Norfolk to compensate for a mathematical error made by the legislative fiscal analyst's office.

Another $450,000 will be recommended for the mental hospitals, the Beatrice State Home and the Nebraska Psychiatric Institute to correct a committee error in dropping earmarked federal funds into the institutions' general operating budgets.

An additional $237,693 would be applied to the University of Nebraska budget for general extension activities, a figure inadvertently trimmed from the general fund appropriation as a result of lack of information on the mixture of general and cash funds underwriting extension programs.

Added $50,000

The committee will also recommend an additional $50,000 for the Department of Education to permit the manpower development and training program to continue to operate through 1967.

Beginning next year, the federal government will require states to pay 10% of the program's costs.

Pedersen's bid to slice funds for the capital construction program won support only from Sens. Kenneth Bowen of Red Cloud, Rudolf Kokes of Ord, Frank Nelson of O'Neill, Ira Paine of Grand Island, Chet Paxton of Thedford, and William Wylie of Elgin.

7 Opposed

Seven Douglas County senators opposed the amendment, while the remaining two were absent.

Sen. George Gerdes of Alliance noted that Pedersen's proposal would "nearly cut in half" the proposed 1.175 mill levy increase recommended for capital construction programs.

Budget Chairman Richard Marvel of Hastings said across-the-board cuts, similar to the Pedersen proposal, "destroy four years of work on this budget system."

Marvel said he does not oppose the principle of seeking decreases in specific areas.

Not Wild Spenders

The Legislature's budget recommendations do "not reflect the influence of wild spenders," Sen. Terry Carpenter of Scottsbluff maintained, but rather the recognition of need.

The broadened tax base issue should not cloud budget considerations, he said.

Russian 2-Jet Bombers Seen In N. Viet Nam

Washington (AP)—About a half dozen Soviet-built medium jet bombers have been sighted in North Viet Nam in the past week or so, informed sources said Thursday. The craft were identified as twin-jet IL28s.

Whether they are being piloted by Russians is not known, these informants said.

They reported that six or eight of the planes, which have a middle-range bombing radius sufficient to allow bombing of South Viet Nam, had been spotted.

The United States has previously reported detecting at least two Soviet-type anti-aircraft missile sites in the vicinity of Hanoi, the North Vietnamese capital. No missiles have yet been detected at these installations. It was reported Thursday.

... RENDEZVOUS SCRATCHED

Houston, Tex., P—America's new spacemen were reported hale and hearty early Friday morning as their two-man Gemini 4 capsule began its tenth orbit of the earth.

Both men, command pilot James McDivitt and space walker Edward White, had taken catnaps as their tightly packed spacecraft whirled around the globe with more than three days of flight still ahead. White got in some exercise.

The historic adventure had started with a perfect launch. The high point came about 4 1/2 hours later when White, 34, casually eased himself out of the capsule 135 miles above the earth and floated out in the cold vacuum of space for 20 delightful minutes.

White's dramatic excursion, during which he chatted nonchalantly and darted about with a space gun, had been one of the main objectives of the four-day mission.

Another cosmic feat, a proposed rendezvous with another orbiting satellite, had to be scratched.

Titan Unattainable

White's space twin, pilot James McDivitt, had hoped to be able to pull up alongside the burned-out second stage of the Titan 2 rocket which blasted the pair into orbit from Cape Kennedy, Fla., at 9:16 a.m. CST.

McDivitt followed the huge booster to and fro but soon used up too much fuel and had to give up the chase.

White's thrilling experience in space, where even the stars do not twinkle, came during the third orbit, one later than planned, as he streaked at 17,500 miles an hour above his own homeland.

Matches Soviet Feat

The feat matched that of cosmonaut Alexei Leonov who drifted for 10 minutes outside Russia's Voskhod 2 spaceship March 18.

The climactic space walk featured lively banter between White, McDivitt and ground controller Virgil Grissom (See Page 2.)

Unlike Leonov, White said he experienced no disorientation in trying to relocate his spacecraft. Like the Russian, however, he found the experience exhilarating and was reluctant to re-enter the space ship.

"I'm not coming in," White laughingly said to McDivitt at one point.

After White's return, the mission went back to the planned schedule. White snoozed through the fifth, sixth and seventh revolutions, awaking early as the craft began its eighth circuit.

Houston mission control reported White "slept some, but not sound."

The Russian maneuver was televised; the American was not.

Too Pressed

White had planned to step outside during the second orbit.

'Manned Satellites Needed'

Washington (UPI)—The House Government Operations Committee called Thursday for immediate military development of manned space stations possibly costing $5 billion to $10 billion each. It said defense aspects of space are being neglected.

In a report made to the House as two U.S. astronauts circled the globe, the committee lauded efforts to put men on the moon. It said the prime goal of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA) should be to reach this goal before Russia.

But it chided the Defense Department for its assertion the military has no clearly defined mission in space and said the Air Force should be commissioned "without further delay" to build a series of manned orbital laboratories.

The first of these would cost at least $1 billion with later more sophisticated models involving five to ten times that amount.

Long periods in space tend to lull the heart into a lazy state, making it react with a quick but inefficient beat when the astronaut returns to the normal world of gravity. Weightlessness also produces a drop in blood pressure and a pooling of blood in the legs.

Bogalusa's First Negro Deputy Slain

Bogalusa, La. (AP)—A volley of shots from nightriders in a pickup truck ripped into a sheriff's patrol car outside Bogalusa late Wednesday night, killing this racially torn area's first Negro officer and wounding another.

An hour later an alert town marshal stopped a black pickup truck at Tylertown, Miss., and jailed its white occupant, Ernest Ray McElveen, 41, a paper mill worker. Louisiana authorities ordered him booked for murder.

More arrests are expected. An FBI team from the Washington crime laboratory flew in to aid the investigation.

The nighttime killing, the first death attributed to the mill town's months long racial conflict, shocked this Deep South state.

Blot On Louisiana
Those responsible for the shooting "shall be brought to justice," promised Gov. John J. McKeithen at a hastily called news conference in Baton Rouge. He called the killing "a blot on our history."

Federal, state and local officers launched a massive investigation into the killing. From the number of bullet holes in the car, they theorized, several persons participated in the shooting.

The shots poured into the car as the two Negro deputies drove along Louisiana Route 21, about seven miles north of here and near a community called Varnado. Deputy O'Neal Moore was driving. Deputy Creed Rogers was sitting beside him.

Sang In Choir
Moore, father of four daughters and a church choir singer, died instantly with a bullet through the head. Rogers was hit in the shoulder. The car ran off the road and struck a large oak tree beside a service station.

Washington Parish (County) Sheriff Dorman Crowe had hired the two Negro deputies last June over objections of the Ku Klux Klan.

Every window in the car was smashed by the bullets, the sheriff said. Although wounded, Rogers got off a radio alarm.

In Tylertown, 40 miles to the northwest, Town Marshal Vern Brunfield heard the alarm and spotted McElveen's pickup truck with a Confederate flag tag on its front bumper. Walthall County Sheriff J. C. Knippers said McElveen was armed with a .45 caliber pistol and a .22 caliber pistol.

Recently Fired
The .45 smelled of recent firing but was fully loaded, the Mississippi sheriff said.

McElveen denied any connection with the shooting. He was fingerprinted and jailed pending extradition proceedings. He declined to waive extradition.

McElveen, a wavy-haired Marine veteran of World War II, is an assistant operator at a Bogalusa paper mill. He is the father of a teen-aged son who is a high school football star.

The slaying followed a rash of street fights and other racial troubles which erupted several months ago in the wake of Negro demonstrations for equal job opportunities and integration of public facilities. Negroes make up 35% of this town's 23,000 population.

Valuation Could Go Up 25% If All Assessed At 35%

By DON WALTON
Star Staff Writer

State Tax Commissioner George Dworak told state senators Thursday that valuation of tangible real estate in Nebraska might be boosted as much as 25% to 30% if all property were assessed at 35% of actual value.

Dworak said that the recently completed reappraisal in Nance County proposes a general increase totaling between 58% and 62%.

Senators were informed that Dworak has advised all county assessors to be available in July in case they are called in for hearings before the State Board of Equalization and Assessment.

Sets Levy Next Month
The board meets next month to establish the state property tax mill levy required to meet authorized expenditures.

The board will have to employ "good horse sense" in determining how to apply reappraisal values recommended for Nance County and two other counties whose reappraisals may be completed by the time the board meets, Dworak noted.

Dworak and Atty. Gen. Clarence Meyer met with lawmakers in an extraordinary informal afternoon session to discuss provisions of LB87, a major tax proposal authored by Sen. Terry Carpenter of Scottsbluff.

The bill is currently residing on general file, first stage of floor consideration.

Five Other Factors
In its amended form, it provides that actual value for assessment purposes shall mean market value in the ordinary course of trade, with recognition permitted for five other factors now written into law.

The five include earning capacity, relative location, desirability and functional use, reproduction costs less depreciation, and comparison with other property of known value.

LB87 also provides that both the assessor and taxpayer must explain the dollar value accorded to each factor in assessing actual value of the property.

Dworak said he prefers the use of market value only since all of the other five factors are reflected in the market value of property.

Dollar Value
The tax commissioner said he opposes placing a dollar value on each factor if the Legislature determines to continue using the six factors in one form or another.

Meyer said it would be easier for a county assessor to justify valuation if he is required to use market value only.

Carpenter suggested that 95% of the people have "no knowledge of their rights" in tax matters or means to finance appeals.

"We must see that those who know (the tax laws) do not impose too much on those who don't know," Carpenter said.

ADC Increase Fails By 26-12 Count

The Legislature Thursday killed on a 26-12 count legislation which would increase state payments for aid to dependent children by $2.5 million during the 1965-67 biennium.

Sen. Henry Pedersen, Jr. of Omaha offered the motion as the bill showed up on select file, second of three major steps along the legislative route to final passage.

Pedersen argued that increased costs would be prohibitive.

Strong Initial Approval
The bill, LB754, had won surprisingly strong 28-9 first round floor endorsement 10 days ago.

The measure would have boosted maximum ADC payments to $110 a month for the first dependent child, and $25 monthly for each additional child.

Maximum payments are now $100 per month for the first child, $15 a month for each of the next three children in a family, and $10 monthly for each additional child.

Authorized by Sen. Fern Hubbard Orme of Lincoln, the bill would have cost taxpayers an additional $1,250,000 annually.

Mrs. Orme argued that the bill is needed to provide enough assistance to meet basic requirements for food, shelter and clothing.

... SPACE WALK TALK TOLD

Houston (AP) — Here is the conversation among astronauts Edward White and James McDivitt and capsule communicator Virgil Grissom while White was swimming in space outside the Gemini 4 capsule.

McDivitt: "Tell us what you think."

White: "Looks like we're coming up on the coast of California."

McDivitt: "One thing about it when Ed gets out there and starts wriggling around it sure makes the spacecraft tough to control."

Grissom: "Is he taking pictures?"

McDivitt: "Not yet."

Grissom: "Take some pictures."

White: "Okay, I'm gonna work on getting some pictures now."

McDivitt: "Okay, get out front so I can see you. I've only got about three of them."

White: "Okay."

McDivitt: "Where are you?"

White: "I'm out front now."

Grissom: "You've got about five minutes."

(White explained to McDivitt he was going to do something, but the transmission was garbled.)

McDivitt: "Do it slowly, and I'll take your picture."

'Straight Down'

McDivitt: "Just float around. Right now we're pointed just about straight down to the ground."

(White made observations that were garbled in transmission.)

McDivitt: "Let me take a close-up picture here."

(A pause.)

McDivitt: "You're smearing up my windshield, you dirty dog."

(A laugh from both.)

McDivitt: "See how it's all smeared up there?"

White: "Yeah."

McDivitt: "Looks like there's a coating on the outside and you rubbed it off. That's exactly what you've done."

'Looks Like Texas'

McDivitt: "Ed, I don't know exactly where we are, but it looks like we're over Texas. As a matter of fact, you know, that looks like Houston down below us."

Grissom: "Gemini 4, Houston Cap-Com (Capsule Communications)."

McDivitt: "Hey, Gus, as a matter of fact it looks like we're right over Houston."

Grissom: "Gemini 4, Gemini 4, Houston."

McDivitt: "Yeah, that's Galveston Bay right there."

White: "Yeah."

McDivitt: "Hey, Ed, can you see in your side of the spacecraft?"

White: "Yeah."

McDivitt: "Can you see the camera here?"

White: "Yeah."

McDivitt: "Is it pointing at you?"

'Turn It'

White: "No, not now, no. Turn it I'm not in the picture."

McDivitt: "Which way?"

(A garbled reply from White.)

McDivitt: "Now don't get back there where the ah..."

White (interrupting): "No, I'm not behind you, I'm out in front..."

Grissom, repeatedly amid garbled McDivitt-White conversation: "Gemini 4, Houston; Gemini 4, Houston; Gemini 4, Houston."

White: "I've only shot about three or four (pictures)."

McDivitt: "All right I've taken a lot, but they're not very good. You're in too close for most of them. I finally put the focus down to about eight feet or so."

Grissom: "Gemini 4, Houston."

'Will You Tell Him?'

Ground to Flight: "Flight, will you tell Gemini 4 to release the key when you're trying to talk to him?"

Grissom: "Gemini 4, Houston."

McDivitt: "You know, Ed, the thing about the reference you were talking about—it looks like you're right."

Grissom: "Gemini 4, Houston."

McDivitt: "... (garbled) The flight director has got to say."

Grissom, distinctly: "The flight director says, 'Get back in.'"

McDivitt: "Got any messages for us?"

Grissom, urgently: "Gemini 4, get back in."

McDivitt: "Okay. We're going to come back in now."

Grissom: "Roger, we've been trying to talk to you for a while here."

White, upon receiving order to return to the capsule: "I'm just fine..."

McDivitt: "No, back in. Come on."

'I'm Not'

White, laughingly but garbled: "... I'm not coming in."

McDivitt: "We've got 3½ more days to go buddy."

White, reluctantly: "I'm coming."

McDivitt: "Okay."

Grissom: "You've got about four minutes to Bermuda LOS (loss of signal)."

McDivitt to White: "... Okay, okay, don't worry about a thing. Just come on in."

McDivitt: "How you doing there?"

White: "I'm doing great."

McDivitt: "Good."

McDivitt: "Okay, let's... Oops, take it easy now."

White: "I'm doing... I'm right on top of it, right now."

McDivitt: "Can't you get a hold there, Ed?"

White: "Yeah, I'm... (garbled)."

'Come On In'

McDivitt, answering a garbled question from White: "Nope, come on in."

(White again tells McDivitt something.)

McDivitt, insistently: "Ed, come on in here."

White: "All right."

McDivitt: "Okay, let's not lose... (garbled)."

White: "I don't quite have it."

McDivitt: "Little bit more."

White: "Got it?"

McDivitt: "Okay, I got it" (McDivitt and White exchange more garbled conversation.)

'Before It Gets Dark'

McDivitt: "Come on, let's get back in here before it gets dark."

White: "Okay."

(The two exchange more garbled conversation.)

McDivitt: "Come on now."

Flight Control: "Give him a call again, Gus."

Grissom: "Gemini 4, Houston."

White: "I'm fixing to come in the house."

Grissom: "Gemini 4, Houston Cap-Com."

(A delay and garbled conversation.)

McDivitt: "Any messages for us, Houston?"

Gus Stern

Grissom, sternly: "Yeah. Get back in."

Grissom: "You getting him back in?"

McDivitt: "He's standing in the seat now and his legs are down below the instrument panel."

Grissom: "Okay, get him back in now. You're going to have Bermuda LOS in about 20 (seconds)."

McDivitt: "He's coming in. He's having some trouble getting back in the space cabin—looks like."

Grissom: "You got your cabin lights up bright in case you hit darkness?"

McDivitt gave a garbled reply.

Gemini control reported signal lost in Bermuda. McDivitt returned to the network a few seconds later and talked to Grissom. It was garbled on the air.

Someone asked Grissom what McDivitt said. Grissom replied:

"He said he was busy and had rather not talk to us."

As White slipped back into the capsule, he said to McDivitt: "It's the saddest moment of my life."

McDivitt laughed.

Johnson Makes Peace Plea

Chicago (UPI) — President Johnson couched an unusual direct plea for peace to the Russian people Thursday night with an announcement that he has ordered the withdrawal of all remaining 2,100 U.S. Marines from Santo Domingo.

Speaking against a background of world tension and U.S. elation over the successful Gemini 4 flight, the President spoke over the heads of Communist leaders in Russia and aimed directly at the Russian people themselves.

Johnson said:

"There is no American interest in the conflict with the Soviet people anywhere. And no true Soviet interest is served by the support of aggression or subversion anywhere."

"We of the United States stand ready always to go with you onto the fields of peace," he said,

'THERE THEY GO' ... beach watchers point.

Astronaut Families Are Equally Happy

From Press Reports

The families of the two U.S. astronauts, watching from their homes in Houston, Tex., were equally thrilled during the first of four days in space Thursday for Edward H. White and James A. McDivitt.

"My daddy's in there," cried 8-year-old Mike McDivitt as the rocket thundered off the launching pad. "This seems almost unreal," said his mother, Mrs. McDivitt, and her three children sat on the floor of a bedroom, their eyes fastened on the TV screen.

Not five miles away, White's wife Patricia was bubbling with joy and clapping as her now-famous husband returned to the Gemini 4 space capsule after swimming in the void of space for 20 minutes and joking about it.

"He's having a ball. Oh boy, what a riot! I'm really happy for him," Mrs. White cried happily.

White's father, Maj. Gen. (ret.) Edward H. White, watching in St. Petersburg, Fla., agreed wholeheartedly, saying:

"You could tell by his voice that he was having the time of his life out there—rolling and tossing and having a great time."

In Jackson, Mich., McDivitt's mother said, "Buck Rogers is getting that ride now... I'm in orbit too."

Reds Slay 70 In Two Ambushes

Saigon, Viet Nam (AP)—Viet Cong detachments killed about 70 government soldiers in two ambushes in the central highlands Thursday. A Red battalion attacked Binh Chanh, only 10 miles southwest of Saigon, but was driven off by six U.S. armed helicopters.

Government troops pressed an operation in the Bac Lieu area, 120 miles southwest of Saigon. A U.S. spokesman said they estimated they killed 40 guerrillas. No casualties were reported among the soldiers.

Warplanes struck hard at Communist targets both north and south of the border. Round-the-clock missions of U.S. Navy and Air Force squadrons against North Viet Nam made it one of the heaviest days of raids in recent weeks. Barracks, bridges and trucks drew fire.

Afro-Asians' Bigger Role In U.N. OK'd

Washington (AP)—The Senate, 71-0, formally ratified Thursday two amendments to the United Nations Charter designed to pave the way for greater representation of Afro-Asian nations on two key councils.

Virtually no opposition was voiced to the amendments themselves, but Republican leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois complained of what he called the "complete surrender" of the administration after announcing its determination to force Soviet Russia to pay up its peacekeeping assessments or lose its vote in the General Assembly.

Dirksen said the United States should seek either to enforce article 19 under which delinquent members can lose their votes, or publicly announce "it is now a dead letter" and come up with an entirely new method of financing.

The amendments, which required approval by a two-thirds majority, as in the case of a treaty, would (1) increase membership on the Security Council from 11 to 15 nations and the voting majority from 7 to 9 and (2) increase the membership on the Economic and Social Council from 18 to 27.

LBJ Wants Far Less Silver In Coins

Washington (AP) — President Johnson recommended Thursday the most drastic change in U.S. coinage since the first Mint was established in 1792: the virtual elimination of silver in coins.

A combination of nickel and copper would be substituted for silver in dimes and quarters and the amount of silver in half dollars would be reduced from 90% to 40%. Pennies and nickels, which contain no silver, and the silver dollar, which has not been minted in 30 years, would remain unchanged.

Johnson asked for the legislation at this session of Congress, and officials said immediate action by Congress would permit general circulation of the new coins early next year.

Only 4.6% Of Labor Force Out Of Work

Washington (UPI) — President Johnson announced Thursday that only 4.6% of the U.S. labor force was out of work in May—the fewest in 7½ years.

While expressing pride in the figure, Johnson warned of a "crisis of the first order" among huge numbers of young persons that high schools and colleges are turning loose on the labor market this summer.

Two million persons aged 16 through 21 will be jobless this summer unless the government and private business can find them work, Johnson said.

"The clock is ticking," he said. "The time to find these jobs is now."

Johnson spoke at a White House ceremony honoring corporations which had responded to his appeal to expand their payrolls by 1% to provide jobs for youngsters.

Other employers, he said, would face a day of reckoning when St. Peter would ask what they did on earth to deserve a place in heaven. Johnson suggested they might tell about hiring young people.

"I don't have any special dispensation to speak for St. Peter, but my judgment is that will make a very good impression on him," the President said.

mediate action by Congress would permit general circulation of the new coins early next year.

Looks Similar

There would be little change in the appearance of the half dollar. The new dimes and quarters would resemble a nickel in surface appearance but would be unchanged in size.

Johnson said the change was dictated by a worldwide shortage of silver.

There also has been a tight supply of coins in the United States for several years, due in part to hoarding of silver coins by speculators who had been counting on an increase in the government-pegged price of $1.29 an ounce for silver.

The treasury has a large measure of control over the market since it is the world's largest user of silver and it also holds the largest stockpile—about one billion ounces.

$1.25-$1.29 Range

The new legislation would permit the treasury to keep the silver price within a range of $1.25 to $1.29 an ounce.

The core of the new dimes and quarters would be composed of pure copper sandwich between two layers of cupronickel—the combination of nickel and copper of which the nickel coin is composed.

The major consideration in selection of the "layered" or "clad" coin is that its electrical properties would permit its use in the nation's 12 million vending machines.

Johnson said, "Silver is becoming too scarce for continued large scale use in coins. To maintain unchanged high silver coinage in the face of this stark reality would only invite a chronic growing scarcity of coins."

Officials said the change in coinage would mean that the amount of silver consumed annually by the Mint would drop from 300 million ounces to 15 million ounces. The Mint could reduce this consumption still further, and even cut it to zero, by halting the minting of half dollars.

White Wanted To Stay Awhile

... SPACE WALK TALK TOLD

Houston (AP) — Here is the conversation among astronauts Edward White and James McDivitt and capsule communicator Virgil Grissom while White was swimming in space outside the Gemini 4 capsule.

McDivitt: "Tell us what you think."

White: "Looks like we're coming up on the coast of California."

McDivitt: "One thing about it when Ed gets out there and starts wriggling around it sure makes the spacecraft tough to control."

Grissom: "Is he taking pictures?"

McDivitt: "Not yet."

Grissom: "Take some pictures."

White: "Okay, I'm gonna work on getting some pictures now."

McDivitt: "Okay, get out front so I can see you. I've only got about three of them."

White: "Okay."

McDivitt: "Where are you?"

White: "I'm out front now."

Grissom: "You've got about five minutes."

(White explained to McDivitt he was going to do something, but the transmission was garbled.)

McDivitt: "Do it slowly, and I'll take your picture."

'Straight Down'

McDivitt: "Just float around. Right now we're pointed just about straight down to the ground."

(White made observations that were garbled in transmission.)

McDivitt: "Let me take a close-up picture here."

(A pause.)

McDivitt: "You're smearing up my windshield, you dirty dog."

(A laugh from both.)

McDivitt: "See how it's all smeared up there?"

White: "Yeah."

McDivitt: "Looks like there's a coating on the outside and you rubbed it off. That's exactly what you've done."

'Looks Like Texas'

McDivitt: "Ed, I don't know exactly where we are, but it looks like we're over Texas. As a matter of fact, you know, that looks like Houston down below us."

Grissom: "Gemini 4, Houston Cap-Com (Capsule Communications)."

McDivitt: "Hey, Gus, as a matter of fact it looks like we're right over Houston."

Grissom: "Gemini 4, Gemini 4, Houston."

McDivitt: "Yeah, that's Galveston Bay right there."

White: "Yeah."

McDivitt: "Hey, Ed, can you see in your side of the spacecraft?"

White: "Yeah."

McDivitt: "Can you see the camera here?"

White: "Yeah."

McDivitt: "Is it pointing at you?"

Packer, Chain Stores Attacked

Given Blame For Spread Beef Prices

By GLENN KREUSCHER
Farm Editor

Omaha—Many of the live-stock men testifying before seven members of the National Commission on Food Marketing here Thursday blamed the concentration of mass volume buying and the packer and chain stores in the cattle feeding business as a major cause of the wide spread between live cattle prices and retail beef prices.

Cattle feeder M. J. Hankins of Stanton recommended to the commission that packers and chain stores be taken out of all phases of the cattle feeding business.

Hankins told commission members the only reason for packers and chain stores to be feeding cattle was "for the purpose of market manipulation."

Representatives of the 2,260 member Nebraska Stockgrowers Association, said, "We believe the feeding by packers and retail food chains gives an undue amount of leverage on market prices for any given day. Packers should be allowed to own live beef only 10 days and retailers allowed to own no live beef."

"Divide, Conquer"

Cattle feeders Keith Burney of Hartington, and Oscar Bradthauer of Grand Island, told the commission it had been their observation that some buyers of slaughter live-stock have effectively used a system of "divide and conquer" in their procurement practices.

While ranchers and feeders struck hard at the integration of the beef business no complaint on the magnitude of that made by individuals was voiced by Don F. Magdanz and B. H. Jones, who serve as executive and associate secretary-treasurer of the National Livestock Feeders Association.

Magdanz and Jones occupied a great deal of their time before the commission explaining complaints concerning the discrimination in the sale of red meats where labor unions have limited the hours of sale on red meats in such cities as Chicago.

This brought sharp questioning from Senator Gale McGee of Wyoming, a commission member, who asked Magdanz if he considered the hours allowed for the sale of meats one of the major causes of the wide spread between producer and consumer prices.

Drop In Sales

The 1,100 member Nebraska Sandhills Cattle Assn. reported to the commission that retail sales in five towns ranging from 850 to 3,500 population in their area had dropped from 10% to 47% which could be greatly attributed to the small share of the consumer dollar going to the rancher.

This group struck hard at integrated feeding by packers and retailers and summed up their statement, "This integrated feeding is definitely affecting the market no matter what the packers and retailers intentions are."

The National Association of Food Chains got their answer into the record by introducing a letter to the commission where they claimed charges of retailer profiteering on beef during a period of depressed cattle prices, was based on inaccurate USDA "price spread" statistics.

"At the meat counter end of the scale, current USDA statistics overstate retailers realized returns because statistical procedures assume, again inaccurately, that the movement of meat cuts for individual retailers occurs in the same ratio as they occur in the whole carcass.

"On a good sale, as much as 90% of the beef moved will be sold at the special advertised prices, in this case the return to the retailer after accounting for store shrink, was only 50% of what USDA figures estimate it was," said the food chain spokesman in their letter to the commission.

Sen. Roman Hruska served as chairman of the commission with other members including Sen. McGee (D-Wyo); Congressman Glenn Cunningham (R-Neb.), Leonor K. Sullivan (D-Mo.), and Graham Purcell (D-Tex.); Albert K. Mitchell, Albert N. Mex; and Dean Elmer Kiehl, Missouri College of Agriculture.

Commission members delved at length in questioning those testifying.

Hearings will continue through Saturday with the commission taking testimony from livestock, market and packer interests in Nebraska, Iowa, Kansas, South Dakota, Missouri and Wisconsin.

Hebron and the Bill Svoboda house became their first official stop of a six-week, 10,000 mile tour holding forth such other highlights as the Black Hills, the hurry-hurry of Los Angeles and even Harry S.

Truman. A meeting Friday with Gov. Frank Morrison is the only other Nebraska part of an itinerary that seeks to show the U.S. "as no campus can."

Each stop has a special purpose and here the boys are to see the small farm community, particularly the people who make it what it is, noted John Lentz, a '65 Macalester graduate whose non-farm New Jersey background permitted him to gain a few pointers himself. Fellow coordinator Dave Farson of Ohio is also of Macalester, the St. Paul, Minn., school which includes the founder of the unique sightseeing program on its staff.

Harry Morgan, now the 31-year-old director of the college's International House, has been featured in several magazines along with the "Ambassadors" tours he started six years ago. This summer alone 48 colleagues will have a new insight of the U.S.A., thanks to $1 and $2 contributions that came after the Readers Digest and Mademoiselle publicized the venture.

The Svobodas became host after Kathie, busy mother of six, wrote Morgan that for such a cause she could cook a while for six more. A girl's group took her up on the offer four years ago, this time boys who "enjoy food as much as the international hootenanny they had in the house last night."

Guitaring Austrian style was Helmut Kelbetz, an electrical engineering student whose observations included one that "your Hebron looks more like a wealthy European suburb than the small town of average income."

Right To Bear Arms

By WILLIAM O DOBLER

A Senate committee has been busy with hearings on proposed legislation to control the sale and distribution of firearms in the United States. For many people, there is little interest in this subject because they have no use personally for a gun and bother themselves little with the subject in general.

But the issue is of concern to a great many people. It is of concern to the legitimate gun collector, the hunter, the man who owns a gun for self-protection, law-enforcement officials and, unfortunately, the criminal element.

It is with the latter group and some others that issue is taken but there is not much agreement as to just what issue is to be taken. Some people maintain that there simply is no effective way to control firearms possession without infringing upon the constitutional rights of citizens to bear arms. Others argue that there is no effective way of control, period. They feel that the criminal, the mentally deficient and others like them who want a gun for some evil purpose will obtain the weapon regardless of controls that might be imposed.

Obviously, there is no way of proving who is right and who is wrong. Testimony has been presented to Congress in the past tending to support every shade of opinion that exists on this subject. It is difficult to ignore the overwhelming testimony of law-enforcement officials in favor of some kind of gun-selling regulations.

Currently receiving top congressional consideration is a measure by Sen. Thomas J. Dodd, Connecticut Democrat. This measure is aimed primarily at the sale of weapons by mail order houses. In the past, Senator Dodd has sought only to control such sales but his current bill would eliminate them entirely.

It would take some courage and perhaps not too much realism for Congress to pass this measure. There are many legitimate mail order gun sales and there is no need to eliminate them entirely. But some controls over such business would be in order. Many gun owners and professionals of one kind or another in the field object to gun registrations but their position is hard to agree with. They maintain that it would facilitate a foreign power takeover of the nation. If the nation were invaded or our government overthrown, the enemy could take the gun registration lists and disarm the population.

It must be granted that this would be possible but it is a ridiculous thing to contemplate in this day and age. When this nation's Constitution was written, such a possibility was obvious but it is impractical today to think of a nation's being taken over or defended with small arms. It is also argued that registration could work to place an innocent party in jeopardy of prosecution for a crime of which he was innocent. This could happen, presumably, if a registered gun were stolen, used to commit a crime and then traced back to its original lawful owner.

Once again, this is a possibility but it is very remote. It seems that we could give law-enforcement agencies more credit than would be accorded them with such reasoning at that. But the ability to trace the gun back could result in the accumulation of clues that could help in the apprehension of the true criminal.

For all practical purposes, we have registration of guns here in Lincoln and no one seems to object to it nor have any bad experiences ensued from it. With the exception of shotguns, rifles and weapons commonly used in hunting, gun purchases through dealers are registered in Lincoln. There is not and as a practical matter cannot be any control over sales between individuals and by mail order.

If Senator Dodd would settle for his original bill which required, in effect, the registration of mail order guns, the measure would stand at least a chance of passing. Contrary to claims, this would not interfere with the legitimate ownership of guns. To have a gun registered does not mean you cannot buy and own all the guns you want. You could have a basement arsenal if you wanted. This does not mean to include full endorsement of the original Dodd measure because it had some other shortcomings.

But Congress would be well advised to provide for the registration of guns sold through mail order houses. This would not eliminate all crime but it could serve to deter the evil purposes of the deranged and some of the criminal element. The arguments against such registration are just too far-fetched to buy.

Russia Raises Farmer Income

Russia continues to be plagued with agricultural shortage. In fact history doesn't say when that country raised enough to satisfy its needs. No doubt the climate and the character of the soil has something to do with it. Most of Russia would lie above what is our Canadian border. And lots of central Russia is too dry to be dependable.

In contrast the United States raises too much and it is technically far advanced. But for opposite reasons the farmers of both countries are hard up. Neither can get a price for their product that fits their need.

The new regime in Russia has made a change in its agricultural policy. Instead of giving out medals, selling collectivism and appealing to patriotism, it has decided to raise prices. This is a capitalistic thing. It has declared for price increases ranging from 20 to 70 per cent for livestock. And it is investing 50 per cent more in farming generally.

One does not know whether the soil will be able to respond proportionately, but we are quite sure the Russian farmer will try to get more to market.

It is surprising that a communist country which considers there is nothing worse than capitalism and private enterprise should take such a step. And it is equally surprising that the United States which is a capitalistic, free enterprise society, would not do so. In this country agriculture could afford to reduce production if it could get a market price it could live on. But it maintains a farm program that assures only the most favored farmers a subsistence level.

There is something wrong in this picture. The wrong people are doing the right thing.

American Man In Space

Two more names are now inscribed on the honor roll of U.S. space achievement—James A. McDivitt and Edward H. White, the Air Force team now piloting the American craft Gemini 4 on a four-day orbit of the earth in space. With the flight barely under way, an historic American first was achieved when Major White left the spacecraft and "walked" in weightlessness as he orbited the earth at 17,500 miles an hour.

White holds a world first by being the first human being to operate alone in space with his own propulsion power. The team did not achieve the dramatic rendezvous with its own booster rocket but this was an added attraction to begin with and takes nothing away from the results that have been attained.

Once again, the U.S. experiment was conducted within full view of the entire world, the launching itself beamed to many nations by the Early Bird space satellite. This is in marked contrast to the secrecy that surrounded the last space adventure of Russia and their reporting, after the fact, that one of their craft's crew had left the ship and floated in space.

The U.S. achievement demonstrates the fact that this nation is now in a commanding position insofar as space science is concerned. Some of this command is shared with Russia but we are not now far behind in the space race in any way that is significant. We have reached a point of progress that is second to none and a mark of great pride on the part of the entire nation. All those associated with this latest space exploit have earned the gratitude of every citizen and our hopes for a successful completion of the flight during the next three days.

Nasser Speaks Frankly

The world is full of trouble spots. But there is one that seems to be healing. It is the feud between the Arab States and Israel.

Until recently the only Arab view expressed was that of wiping Israel off the map and returning the whole Palestinian area back to the Arabs.

Then early this spring there came a small breakthrough. President Bourguiba, of Tunisia, suggested that it might be better if the ultimate war were called off and a peaceable arrangement sought with Israel. No one seconded the motion, but it was distinctly heard.

Now Col. Nasser has rejected Syrian President Amin Hafez' plan for concerted action by the Arab world against Israel.

Nasser warned that the Arabs could not hope to prevail "by following their present course of action."

He pointed out that, "Since we are unable to defend some parts of the Arab world (meaning Yemen) how can we speak of attacking?"

What has really happened is not an ideological acceptance of the Israeli nation. Rather the conclusion is on a de facto basis. The Israelis are running a modern, growing nation and are now too tough to beat Nasser simply faced a fact. This will become more evident to the other Arab states as time goes by.

Israel is really a western society because that is where most of its citizens came from. They arrived with Western knowhow and made the most of it. The Arab states are still trapped by the manners and customs of the past and have largely stood still. They have allowed Israel to outstrip them.

While Israel is still a nation of a few million it will take the far more numerous Arabs a long time and a lot of improvement to match them. Currently, a peaceable arrangement is the best they can get.

Viet Nam War Is Personal For LBJ

WASHINGTON—War, no matter what the circumstances, is tragic business. However, the war in Viet Nam has become a lonely war and to some extent a personal war for one man.

This is not because the President began it. It began 18 years ago under the French, was picked up ten years ago by Eisenhower, and increased four years ago by Kennedy.

It's become personal today because the President feels it so keenly and directs it so carefully. Every morning at three he wakes up and calls the White House security room. Three in the morning is about the time the news is in from Viet Nam on the casualties and the hits after each bombing raid.

The President worries over these, broods over them, wants to know, no matter what the hour of the night, just what has happened. If a cabinet member or sub-cabinet member calls him at two or four in the morning, he doesn't complain. He has given instructions that they should call no matter what hour.

One reason for this personal direction is that the President is worried over the possibility of enlarging the war. He knows how easy it is for bomber pilots to make a mistake, or how dangerous it can be to jettison their bombs on their way home.

On the usual wartime bombing raid, a mission will fly over a target, attempt to knock it out; but if the clouds are low or an enemy plane gives trouble, the bombers may drop their payload indiscriminately on the way back, regardless of military targets.

Not, however, with the war in Viet Nam. Johnson has given strict orders that only the targets he picks out are to be hit — and these are bridges, ammunition dumps, railroad centers, and military installations.

"We're knocking out concrete, we're not hitting women and children," he has frequently told his aides. And he means it.

At first he griped that the Air Force wasn't able to hit a bridge carrying supplies down from North Viet Nam. Smarting Air Force commanders replied that if they were planning the raid themselves they could knock the bridges. So they sent as many as 22 planes on some raids, literally peppering a bridge with a holocaust of bombs.

This is why the war in and over Viet Nam has been a lonely war, a personal war directed by a man who goes to bed well after midnight, but wakes up automatically at 3 a.m. to check on the military targets he has personally pin-pointed.

Under the Constitution, he tells friends, he is charged with the conduct of war. But regardless of the Constitution, he knows that if there are failures, or if the war spreads, he will get the blame. So he is taking the responsibility.

Peace Corps Gets Some Hard Knocks

WASHINGTON—A badly wounded casualty in the hardening line of United States foreign policy is the Peace Corps.

Battle-ready troops are replacing young teachers, nurses, farm experts and other specialists as the image of America in the press and in the thinking of much of the world.

Recent events in the Dominican Republic provide a small but telling example of how the Peace Corps is caught in the crossfire of our new hard-nosed stance toward the rest of the world.

The heroes in the early days of U.S. involvement in the island Republic were the Peace Corps volunteers who aided the injured and hungry on both sides without regard to the shifting fortunes of combat or whether Washington at the moment was backing the Junta or Constitutionalists. But the growing anti-Americanism among rank-and-file Dominicans is now being felt among our volunteers there. Even U.S. Marines, under sniper harassment, have complained of the volunteers' impartial humanitarianism.

The personal courage and popularity of Bob Satin, the young Indian who heads the Dominican Peace Corps contingent, stands in appealing contrast to the cloud of suspicion and confusion over the U.S. embassy in Santo Domingo. But the use of him as an emissary to rebel headquarters in the first weeks of the fighting caused questions elsewhere as to whether the Peace Corps really plays a political role when the chips are down.

Precisely the same questions are being raised about the Voice of America, which has enjoyed an unusual record for candor abroad. The voice has given due weight to American progress and to its critics, a remarkable feat for a propaganda agency.

Sargent Shriver has worked hard to prevent political charges against the Peace Corps from gaining the slightest credibility among Latins, Africans and Asians ever since he formed his organization in 1961. Unfortunately, Shriver has been spread thinner and thinner between the Peace Corps and the anti-poverty program, especially as the latter project grows and comes increasingly under political attack.

Even without that handicap he would be overmatched against the array of hard-line advisors to the President. These are led by Defense Secretary Robert McNamara, McGeorge Bundy of the White House staff and the President's own State Department favorite, Under Secretary of State Thomas Mann. Secretary of State Dean Rusk has thrown in the towel and sides increasingly with them.

This is the group which lunches regularly with the President. Noticeably, Shriver and Carl Rowan, head of the United States Information Service, which includes the voice, are not members.

THE NEIGHBORS SAY

Up's And Down's Of Mumps

By MONA B. PARKER
The Pawnee Republican came across a small 15-page pamphlet of motor vehicle driving rules published by the state in 1937.

At that time, 50 miles per hour was suggested as a safe maximum speed on the highway, and about 20 or 25 miles an hour in business and residential areas. A truck with a gross weight of five tons and over could not travel more than 35 miles an hour, nor could it be longer than 45 feet.

There was no mention of turn signal lights, and no regulations about school buses. Pedestrians were not mentioned and accidents were discussed only briefly, "but there was a whole paragraph on how to pass a street car."

Among several were owners of electric cars, which ran on batteries. They were quiet—"I suspect the clock was the loudest moving part"—and as they approached, all one could hear were the tires on the pavement. "It was a little eerie to look up and see an electric car standing alongside when there had been no hint of its approach."

"Always the cars were chauffeur-driven and they gleamed with polish. No doubt the drivers did little else. I seem to recall a fresh red flower in a vase behind the partition separating the driver from the passengers."

Mrs. McClanahan thinks often of these childhood memories when one of her own children takes up the campaign to get a new family car, replacing the 1959 model of which she is rather fond. "But, Mother," is their argument, "it's so old!" When she thinks about it for awhile, she says, "I begin to feel like the white-haired old ladies who sat in their electric cars—satisfied with the way things were and unseeing to the changes around them."

Athens, Greece
A year in Greece has made me aware of the value and prestige attached not only to being an American but a Nebraskan. The world has grown too small to remain unaware of the far-reaching consequences of the status of Nebraska and her people.

After taking our children to the American Community School of Athens one day, a young Greek came to the window of the car and asked, "Where do you live in Lincoln?" Our Beef State license plate had given us away and this young man named Dimitris told how pleased he was to have been an exchange student at Lincoln High. Since that time he has gone on with studies and is doing graduate work in Germany.

On a holiday to Turkey, I heard on board the Italian liner, San Marco, strains of "There Is No Place Like Nebraska" and upon inquiring, discovered an American teaching in a dependents' school in Izmir, Turkey, who had completed his teaching degree at NU. A group of Californians on the same ship also knew the Cornhusker song because a year earlier they had been on a Scandinavian tour with a group of Nebraska alumni. Another passenger on the cruise was a former professor from Nebraska, Dr. Eddy, from the History Department.

Many in Lincoln will remember the Keith Aldrich family. Professor Aldrich was in Classics and with his family was going around the world on a sabbatical from the Santa Barbara branch of the University of California. The Aldriches took a two-month stop-over in Greece.

On a tour of Northern Greece, we visited Anatolia College in Salonika. The foreign language department of this college intrigued me, for its equipment was as modern as that at Nebraska University. The man in charge of the program was, of course, a Nebraska graduate.

During a speaking engagement on the island of Cyprus, my husband met a former NU graduate and staff member now with the United Nations Technical Assistance Mission in Cyprus.

Right To Bear Arms

By WILLIAM O. DOBLER

A Senate committee has been busy with hearings on proposed legislation to control the sale and distribution of firearms in the United States. For many people, there is little interest in this subject because they have no use personally for a gun and bother themselves little with the subject in general.

But the issue is of concern to a great many people. It is of concern to the legitimate gun collector, the hunter, the man who owns a gun for self-protection, law-enforcement officials and, unfortunately, the criminal element.

It is with the latter group and some others that issue is taken but there is not much agreement as to just what issue is to be taken. Some people maintain that there simply is no effective way to control firearms possession without infringing upon the constitutional rights of citizens to bear arms. Others argue that there is no effective way of control, period. They feel that the criminal, the mentally deficient and others like them who want a gun for some evil purpose will obtain the weapon regardless of controls that might be imposed.

Obviously, there is no way of proving who is right and who is wrong. Testimony has been presented to Congress in the past tending to support every shade of opinion that exists on this subject. It is difficult to ignore the overwhelming testimony of law-enforcement officials in favor of some kind of gun-selling regulations.

Currently receiving top congressional consideration is a measure by Sen. Thomas J. Dodd, Connecticut Democrat. This measure is aimed primarily at the sale of weapons by mail order houses. In the past, Senator Dodd has sought only to control such sales but his current bill would eliminate them entirely.

It would take some courage and perhaps not too much realism for Congress to pass this measure. There are many legitimate mail order gun sales and there is no need to eliminate them entirely. But some controls over such business would be in order. Many gun owners and professionals of one kind or another in the field object to gun registrations but their position is hard to agree with. They maintain that it would facilitate a foreign power takeover of the nation. If the nation were invaded or our government overthrown, the enemy could take the gun registration lists and disarm the population.

It must be granted that this would be possible but it is a ridiculous thing to contemplate in this day and age. When this nation's Constitution was written, such a possibility was obvious but it is impractical today to think of a nation's being taken over or defended with small arms. It is also argued that registration could work to place an innocent party in jeopardy of prosecution for a crime of which he was innocent. This could happen, presumably, if a registered gun were stolen, used to commit a crime and then traced back to its original lawful owner.

Once again, this is a possibility but it is very remote. It seems that we could give law-enforcement agencies more credit than would be accorded them with such reasoning at that. But the ability to trace the gun back could result in the accumulation of clues that could help in the apprehension of the true criminal.

For all practical purposes, we have registration of guns here in Lincoln and no one seems to object to it nor have any bad experiences ensued from it. With the exception of shotguns, rifles and weapons commonly used in hunting, gun purchases through dealers are registered in Lincoln. There is not and as a practical matter cannot be any control over sales between individuals and by mail order.

If Senator Dodd would settle for his original bill which required, in effect, the registration of mail order guns, the measure would stand at least a chance of passing. Contrary to claims, this would not interfere with the legitimate ownership of guns. To have a gun registered does not mean you cannot buy and own all the guns you want. You could have a basement arsenal if you wanted. This does not mean to include full endorsement of the original Dodd measure because it had some other shortcomings.

But Congress would be well advised to provide for the registration of guns sold through mail order houses. This would not eliminate all crime but it could serve to deter the evil purposes of the deranged and some of the criminal element. The arguments against such registration are just too far-fetched to buy.

Precisely the same questions are being raised about the Voice of America, which has enjoyed an unusual record for candor abroad. The voice has given due weight to American progress and to its critics, a remarkable feat for a propaganda agency.

Sargent Shriver has worked hard to prevent political charges against the Peace Corps from gaining the slightest credibility among Latins, Africans and Asians ever since he formed his organization in 1961. Unfortunately, Shriver has been spread thinner and thinner between the Peace Corps and the anti-poverty program, especially as the latter project grows and comes increasingly under political attack.

Even without that handicap he would be overmatched against the array of hard-line advisors to the President. These are led by Defense Secretary Robert McNamara, McGeorge Bundy of the White House staff and the President's own State Department favorite, Under Secretary of State Thomas Mann. Secretary of State Dean Rusk has thrown in the towel and sides increasingly with them.

This is the group which lunches regularly with the President. Noticeably, Shriver and Carl Rowan, head of the United States Information Service, which includes the voice, are not members.

THE NEIGHBORS SAY

Up's And Down's Of Mumps

By MONA B. PARKER
The Pawnee Republican came across a small 15-page pamphlet of motor vehicle driving rules published by the state in 1937.

At that time, 50 miles per hour was suggested as a safe maximum speed on the highway, and about 20 or 25 miles an hour in business and residential areas. A truck with a gross weight of five tons and over could not travel more than 35 miles an hour, nor could it be longer than 45 feet.

There was no mention of turn signal lights, and no regulations about school buses. Pedestrians were not mentioned and accidents were discussed only briefly, "but there was a whole paragraph on how to pass a street car."

Jeanne McClanahan, columnist for the Neligh News, grew up in Pittsfield, Massachusetts, which had its beginnings back in the 1700's. One of its charms, she remembers, was its old-timers.

Among several were owners of electric cars, which ran on batteries. They were quiet—"I suspect the clock was the loudest moving part"—and as they approached, all one could hear were the tires on the pavement. "It was a little eerie to look up and see an electric car standing alongside when there had been no hint of its approach."

"Always the cars were chauffeur-driven and they gleamed with polish. No doubt the drivers did little else. I seem to recall a fresh red flower in a vase behind the partition separating the driver from the passengers."

Mrs. McClanahan thinks often of these childhood memories when one of her own children takes up the campaign to get a new family car, replacing the 1959 model of which she is rather fond. "But, Mother," is their argument, "it's so old!"

When she thinks about it for awhile, she says, "I begin to feel like the white-haired old ladies who sat in their electric cars—satis-

J. C. Crosland of the Hooker County Tribune is a little concerned, on behalf of all Mullen golfers, over the report that the local clergy has indicated an interest in taking up the pastime. "I understand blacksmiths can't shoe horses when the parson is in the shop, and I wonder if a duffer could play golf with a minister in the squad."

fied with the way things were and unseeing to the changes around them."

The small fry of a Lyons family held the upper hand briefly, barricaded quite effectively behind the locked doors of the family vehicle.

A couple took their two small sons, ages nine and five, downtown to the doctor for shots, and made the mistake of getting out of the car ahead of the youngsters. Suddenly they were locked out and the unwilling shot-receivers were locked in. Bribes and threats had little effect, until after a frustrating length of time, the two decided on their own to unlock the door and get the dreaded shots over with.

Out of the mouths of babes ...

Julie Larsen of Hooper related to her kindergarten teacher, with great enthusiasm, how she and her family had witnessed "Trisha getting baptized" in a church ceremony.

Jerry Pickerell, chief carrier of the Bruning Banner, has always worried somewhat about his youngsters and "this show and tell business."

Assuming that it is designed to help a child overcome shyness and learn to speak in front of a group, he can see a certain value offspring might show has never concerned him unduly.

But "It's what they might have told that causes me to panic!"

Prepositions have always thrown the newspaper Miller family of Papillion into mild grammatical fits. And it is a matter of concern to the little Millers as well as the larger ones.

What Editor George lists as "a kindergarten-type daughter" was discussing a little classmate who was ill. She told her parents that her friend was coming "up" with the mumps.

"We suggested that her friend was coming 'down' with the mumps. On second thought, coming 'up' with the mumps does seem a more correct description of the ailment."

Everywhere You Go

Athens, Greece

A year in Greece has made me aware of the value and prestige attached not only to being an American but a Nebraskan. The world has grown too small to remain unaware of the far-reaching consequences of the status of Nebraska and her people.

After taking our children to the American Community School of Athens one day, a young Greek came to the window of the car and asked, "Where do you live in Lincoln?" Our Beef State license plate had given us away and this young man named Dimitris told how pleased he was to have been an exchange student at Lincoln High. Since that time he has gone on with studies and is doing graduate work in Germany.

On a holiday to Turkey, I heard on board the Italian liner, San Marco, strains of "There Is No Place Like Nebraska" and upon inquiring, discovered an American teaching in a dependents' school in Izmir, Turkey, who had completed his teaching degree at NU. A group of Californians on the same ship also knew the Cornhusker song because a year earlier they had been on a Scandinavian tour with a group of Nebraska alumni. Another passenger on the cruise was a former professor from Nebraska, Dr. Eddy, from the History Department.

Many in Lincoln will remember the Keith Aldrich family. Professor Aldrich was in Classics and with his family was going around the world on a sabbatical from the Santa Barbara branch of the University of California. The Aldriches took a two-month stop-over in Greece.

On a tour of Northern Greece, we visited Anatolia College in Salonika. The foreign language department of this college intrigued me, for its equipment was as modern as that at Nebraska University. The man in charge of the program was, of course, a Nebraska graduate.

During a speaking engagement on the island of Cyprus, my husband met a former NU graduate and staff member now with the United Nations Technical Assistance Mission in Cyprus.

Last Thanksgiving we entered two former Nebraskans who are teachers in Colorado high schools. These people who had a taste of life in Nebraska remembered our state favorably. All had an intense interest in the progress of the state and a hope that the problems of Nebraska and her economy would soon be solved. Nebraskans are everywhere, on board aircraft carriers we've toured, living temporarily in remote parts of the world, and even a Nebraska nurse from Elm Creek on leave in Cairo was pleased to hear about other Nebraskans.

As a Nebraskan, I am coming home in September. I trust our people and especially our Legislature will keep in mind the far-reaching consequences of their decisions.

Patient Cost

Hastings, Neb.

While the superintendents of Nebraska's mental hospitals were in Lincoln fighting the battle of the budgets, some county supervisors reported that the cost of caring for a patient from their counties was over $7 per day and that the cost was mostly for labor. An itemized accounting would seem to be in order, and a close scrutiny of hours worked by patients as compared to hours worked by employees should be taken into consideration in deciding the cost of caring for patients. Should either the county or relatives of patients pay $7 or more per day when the patients are doing the heaviest part of the work?

If it is the fringe benefits being received by employees that is causing the high cost of labor at the Hastings State Hospital, that fringe should be trimmed or else the taxpayers will be trimmed!

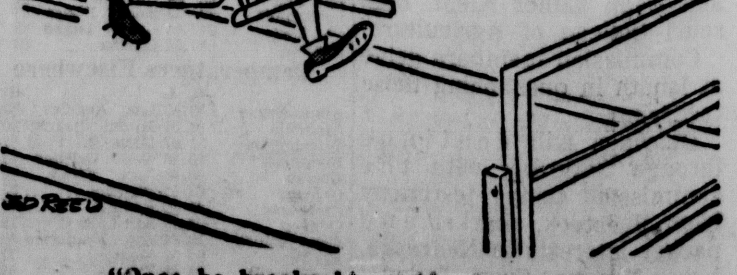

Some years ago, members of the old State Board of Control posted a sign notifying all employees of the Hastings Hospital that it was impossible to keep a supply of medicines on hand and that employees could no longer get aspirin or any other medicine from the hospital medicine supply without a prescription or requisition signed by a member of the medical staff.

About the same time a supervisor reported that, checking on bed sheets, there were found to be 1,000 sheets missing for which no one in authority could give an accounting.

I am a supporter of organized labor. Therefore, I question the idea that the wages being paid at the Hastings State Hospital are causing the cost of more than $7 per day for caring for an Adams County patient at the hospital.

If Bonnano Pisano had not built his marble tower on a fault in the subsoil, Pisa would probably be bypassed by tourists today.

Fortunately for this Italian town, Bonnano had no way, in 1174, of knowing this. Consequently, the Leaning Tower of Pisa draws thousands of people. All paying 150 lire to climb up—(what a climb!)—and walk around with no guard rails.

And scare themselves to death.

At the bottom, there are a number of those antique quick-develop cameras. And the enterprising Pisanos have figured on optical illusion: You put one hand out and, with the tower in the background, it looks as though you are holding it up.

This has become a thriving tourist industry. And the people of Pisa are grateful to Bonnano.

The new super-duper autostrada runs from Florence to Pisa far away from the river Arno and the original road.

Italy is crossed with autostradas now. Big divided highways in the modern manner. As in America, they are great for truck drivers. And, of course, destroy the land for the casual tourist.

Stock brandy billboards hide as much of green Italy as the manufacturers can afford. And the highspeed sightseer is hustled by the Renaissance towns faster than he can read the Michelin guide.

Still it is wonderful country at this time of year. The emerald fields spotted with carmine poppies. The brown fortress villages perched on fortress hilltops.

All Italy is one great art gallery, thick with historic intrigue.

Off the road at Prato is where you find the frescoes of Filippo Lippi, a fifteenth century monk who led a scandalous life but painted like an angel.

Fra Filippo was ordained at 15 years. (It was a blessed age—one of the Medici became a cardinal at 15.) However, at 16 he found the vows too strict and began playing the Prato night life.

He was thereupon bounced from the monastery. While on the lam got himself captured by Barbary pirates and was sold as a slave in Africa.

The Saracens freed him for his artistic talents. He came home penitent. But in a few years got involved with the nun Lucrezia Buti who bore his child, Filippino.

If it was a religious age, it was also forgiving. Cosimo de' Medici released the painter from his vows. And he married Lucrezia who appears as Salome in the Cathedral fresco of the banquet of Herod.

Poor Filippino was finally poisoned—by a jealous husband. Filippino grew up, picked up his papa's paint brushes and went on with the work. A talented and swinging family.

The autostrada runs beside Pistoia (cathedral paintings). By Montecatini (where Italians go to take the waters and recover from the dolce vita). Through Lucca, once a Roman military town. Its Cathedral holds the miraculous crucifix on which the Kings of France swore their oaths.

And so into Pisa where the highway billboards advertise "California Motor Court—Swimming Pool."

Pisa, like Pompeii, is a part from which the Mediterranean has retreated several miles. But once it was as important as the warring republics of Genoa and Venice.

Pisa fought the Saracens and captured Sardinia, Corsica and the Balearic islands. Pisan troops went on the First Crusade. They were part of the army that captured Jerusalem.

Galileo was born here. He dropped weights from the Leaning Tower. Thus finding out the rule of acceleration of falling bodies. Which plagues schoolboys to this day.

Byron wrote "Don Juan" in Pisa. Though I cannot figure out whether that's a tribute or not. The people of Pisa do apparently.

Having seen the Leaning Tower, I went down and leaned into as fine a dish of pasta as I've had in Italy. And if you do this yourself, get the white wine from Rapallo called Cinque Terre.

It makes the tower look straight.

Bond Issues For Colleges' Parking Facilities Passed

The University of Nebraska and the state colleges at Kearney, Wayne, Peru and Chadron are authorized to issue revenue bonds for parking buildings and facilities under a bill passed 40-4 by the State Legislature Thursday.

The measure, LB785, was introduced by Sens. Peter H. Claussen of Leigh and Callista Cooper Hughes of Humboldt.

Any bonds issued for parking facilities would be paid off from parking revenue and would not be a general obligation of the institution or taxpayers. The same procedure is used to finance dormitories, dining halls, student unions and similar revenue-producing facilities.

Another bill passed Thursday authorizes the holding of joint county fairs.

The list (E-emergency clause):

LB853—Authorizing second class cities and villages to go into debt to pay for easements and rights-of-way for water-courses and flood control installations. (By Proulx, for the governor) (E) (46-0).

LB769—Providing for free supply to county police chairman of duplicate voter registration lists and supplemental lists. (Seward) (41-4).

LB616—Prohibiting stock insurance companies from doing business in the state when total organization and promotion expense exceeds 10%. (Bower) (E) (45-0).

LB431—Authorizing the holding of joint county fairs by two or more counties or county agricultural societies. (Wallace Holmquist, R. Rasmussen) (E) (46-0).

LB771—Authorizing courts to postpone the service of a qualified juror from one jury panel to a specific future panel. (Clyde) (46-0).

LB785—Authorizing University of Nebraska and state colleges to issue bonds for parking buildings and facilities. (Claussen, Hughes) (40-4).

LB67—Extending from 30 to 60 days the allowed period for filing claims against second class cities and villages for damages arising from defective streets, sidewalks or other facilities, and extending provisions of this law also to first class cities. (Payne) (45-0).

LB375—Providing that grant of right-of-way for construction and operation of irrigation works construction under federal authority shall not apply to state school lands. (Paxton, Grandall) (44-0).

LB794—Creating a new judicial district (No. 21) composed of Boone, Platte, Colfax, Nance and Merrick Counties, and dropping these counties from District No. 6. (R. Rasmussen, Kremer, Nore) (46-0).

LB629—Requiring examination and fee payment for the issuance of a resident insurance broker's license. (Carpenter) (41-0).

LB889—Revising penalties for the failure to report property for tax purposes, and revising procedures related thereto. (Blaug Committee) (E) (44-0).

LB732—Increasing fees charged for issuance of insurance licenses to resident agents of domestic insurers and to resident brokers. (Proulx) (43-1).

LB732—Revising insurance law to increase the unearned premium reserve requirements. (Proulx) (42-0).

LB715—Providing for street improvements in first class cities on streets located partly inside and partly outside such cities. (Nore, Craft) (44-0).

LB884—Revising references to free high school tuition, free public high school education or free high school education in school laws. (Holmquist) (42-0).

LB458—Setting out and clarifying the bond issue authority of the city of Lincoln. (Orme, Bauer, Moulton, Stromer) (E) (45-0).

LB468—Conferring on first class cities certain rights and jurisdiction over outside flood control projects which affect such city. (Nore, Craft) (44-0).

LB889—Authorizing first class cities to pay the premiums on required bonds of council members. (Grandall) (43-0).

LB732—Permitting use of artificial lights in hunting raccoons or taking predatory animals in the protection of property. (Knight, Warner) (45-1).

An idea for utilizing the entire Lincoln Air Force Base except runways, as a facility for mentally retarded will be advanced Friday.

State Institutions Director George Morris and Lincolnite Mrs. Eleanor Enersen will present the idea to the Mayor's Opportunity Team Advisory Committee and a New York engineering consulting firm, retained to evaluate uses for the base.

Morris said that at this stage it is just an idea for using the base which is scheduled to close in June of next year but one that has unlimited possibilities.

Program Later

The director said a program would have to be developed later.

"There would be no discrimination relative to anything," Morris said, "it would be for anyone in the United States that could use this type of service."

He outlined two specific needs for such a facility.

For 1,400 mentally retarded children of active members of the armed forces Morris said many states, including Nebraska, will accept only residents of the state thus exempting service dependents.

The federal government is reported talking about planning an institution for the care of dependents of military personnel.

The unmet needs of Nebraska, Morris said that about 45,000 persons in Nebraska are probably in the category of mentally retarded.

He said only about 3,000 are now receiving care and management in the state.

Morris said the idea is for an over-all program for mentally retarded, possibly including the following:

Education programs, vocational training programs, placement in employment, closed workshops for individuals needing that kind of care, permanent residency, day-care center, pre-school nursery, and vacation homes to allow for care up to 90 days to give parents a vacation.

Miss Nixon said the commission probably would consider the application next week for recommendation to the federal agency.

OLSON'S BID ON NU MUSIC BUILDING LOW

The Olson Construction Co. of Lincoln Thursday submitted the apparent low bid for general construction of a new music building on the University of Nebraska campus.

The Olson firm bid $876,777 on the general contract under five other bids.

Other apparent low bidders included Ray Martin Co. of Lincoln $198,927 on the mechanical contract, Energy Enterprises of Lincoln, $74,950 on the electrical contract, and O'Keefe Elevator of Omaha, $14,800 on elevators.

The bids will be reviewed by the University Board of Regents June 11 and contracts awarded.

The construction project will be financed by a $1.5 million appropriation from the 1963 Legislature. It does not include equipment, sidewalks and other companion facilities for which the school has asked the present Legislature to allocate $820,000.

New Domiciliary At Grand Island To Be Dedicated

Gov. Frank Morrison announced Thursday a new domiciliary at the Grand Island Soldiers and Sailors Home will be dedicated at 11 a.m. Sunday.

The facility will house 42 veterans, he said.

The domiciliary will be dedicated as a Carl A. Anderson Spanish War Memorial Building. It has been completely furnished by the Carl A. and Eda A. Anderson Foundation, Inc.

The governor said Anderson, who served in the U.S. Navy during the Spanish-American War, was an example of the "Nebraska success story."

After his return to civilian life, Anderson established a business in Omaha in 1914 and from a bag of tools and $70 in cash built the company which now has branches in numerous Nebraska and Iowa cities.

Morrison, Sorensen Confer

Gov. Frank Morrison and Lt. Gov. Philip Sorensen met Thursday to discuss, among other things, the lieutenant governor's income tax statement of the day before.

"They had a cordial discussion—as they always do," gubernatorial assistant Gene Budig said.

"They also discussed several of the major issues now facing the Legislature," he noted.

Budig confirmed that the two met for about 20 minutes after Sorensen came to the governor's office to speak with Morrison.

Sorensen Wednesday had issued a statement decrying "general misunderstanding" of the income tax bill, LB797, which Sorensen attributed to the failure of one newspaper to fairly explain the measure.

Sorensen's comments appeared aimed at the Omaha World-Herald, and later prompted indirect criticism in response at a Morrison press conference.

Meanwhile, Speaker of the Legislature Kenneth Bowen of Red Cloud praised Sorensen for "standing up for his convictions" on the income tax issue without regard for personal political considerations.

"No man in the Legislature has more of a political future than he," Bowen said.

"He did not have to speak up. But he chose to state his

Base Use To Be Proposed

... FACILITY FOR MENTALLY RETARDED EYED

An idea for utilizing the entire Lincoln Air Force Base, except runways, as a facility for mentally retarded will be advanced Friday.

State Institutions Director George Morris and Lincolnite Mrs. Eleanor Enersen will present the idea to the Mayor's Opportunity Team Advisory Committee and a New York engineering consulting firm, retained to evaluate uses for the base.

Morris said that at this stage it is just an idea for using the base, which is scheduled to close in June of next year, but one that "has unlimited possibilities."

Program Later

The director said a program would have to be developed later.

"There would be no discrimination relative to anything," Morris said, "it would be for anyone in the United States that could use this type of service."

He outlined two specific needs for such a facility:

—For 1,400 mentally retarded children of active members of the armed forces. Morris said many states, including Nebraska, will accept only residents of the state, thus exempting service dependents.

The federal government is reported talking about planning an institution for the care of dependents of military personnel.

—The unmet needs of Nebraska. Morris said that about 45,000 persons in Nebraska are probably in the category of mentally retarded.

He said only about 3,000 are now receiving care and management in the state.

Morris said the idea is for an over-all program for mentally retarded, possibly including the following:

Education programs, vocational training programs, placement in employment, closed workshops for individuals needing that kind of care, permanent residency, day-care center, pre-school nursery, and vacation homes to allow for care up to 90 days to give parents a vacation.

OLSON'S BID ON NU MUSIC BUILDING LOW

The Olson Construction Co. of Lincoln Thursday submitted the apparent low bid for general construction of a new music building on the University of Nebraska campus.

The Olson firm bid $876,777 on the general contract, under five other bids.

Other apparent low bidders included Ray Martin Co. of Lincoln, $198,927 on the mechanical contract; Energy Enterprises of Lincoln, $74,950 on the electrical contract, and O'Keefe Elevator of Omaha, $14,800 on elevators.

The bids will be reviewed by the University Board of Regents June 11 and contracts awarded.

The construction project will be financed by a $1.5 million appropriation from the 1963 Legislature. It does not include equipment, sidewalks and other companion facilities for which the school has asked the present Legislature to allocate $820,000.

New Domiciliary At Grand Island To Be Dedicated

Gov. Frank Morrison announced Thursday a new domiciliary at the Grand Island Soldiers and Sailors Home will be dedicated at 11 a.m. Sunday.

The facility will house 42 veterans, he said.

The domiciliary will be dedicated as a Carl A. Anderson Spanish War Memorial Building. It has been completely furnished by the Carl A. and Eda A. Anderson Foundation, Inc.

The governor said Anderson, who served in the U.S. Navy during the Spanish-American War, was an example of the "Nebraska success story."

After his return to civilian life, Anderson established a business in Omaha in 1914 and from a bag of tools and $70 in cash built the company which now has branches in numerous Nebraska and Iowa cities.

President Johnson's proposal that the states use a third of their federal secondary road aid on scenic highway development might be "pretty hard to justify" from a Midwestern point of view, State Engineer John Hossack said Thursday.

Under the President's proposal submitted to Congress last week, one-third of federal secondary road aid to states would be earmarked for scenic road development.

Hossack said the President is asking Congress to spend a lot of money without knowing which roads will qualify for scenic roads.

Without Plan

He said if the legislation is passed, it will be giving money to something before a plan is developed as to how it will be spent.

Nebraska gets about $5.8 million a year in federal secondary road aid. Half of this aid goes to Nebraska counties. The federal secondary road aid is used on the state's secondary road system of about 4,000 miles, of which about 1,400 is gravel; and by the counties on about 18,000 miles of county road system, which consists mostly of dirt and gravel roads.

If the federal legislation is passed, Hossack said, Nebraska would have to use about $2 million of this federal aid on scenic road development "when Nebraska people are standing in line for farm to market type roads."

Hossack said it is a matter of priority.

$204,800 Claims Appropriations Gets Initial OK

The Legislature Thursday gave first round approval to a bill appropriating $204,800 to pay various claims against the state.

The bill, LB905, contains claims approved by the salaries and claims committee.

Before giving the measure 34-1 first round approval, the Legislature approved amendments offered by Valentine Sen. Elvin Adamson which cut out several older claims, some of which dated back to the 1920's.

The Salaries and Claims Committee originally recommended payment of more than $232,500 in claims.

The Legislature also gave 25-0 first round approval to a bill, LB863, increasing registration fees for restaurants, hotels, rooming houses, boarding houses, apartment houses, motels and tourist camps to finance inspections.

their share to gravel and improve dirt roads and in some cases to use about $2 million of this federal aid on scenic road development.

Another possible headache for Nebraska under the proposed program, Hossack said, is that Nebraska might wind up losing secondary road aid to other states.

Not That Many

"Nebraska really doesn't have that many scenic roads," Hossack said. "After a couple of years we would be darn short of projects."

Earlier this year the Nebraska Highway Department submitted to the U.S. Bureau of Roads a list of proposed scenic roads.

However, these would have to be approved and would have to be of a certain length and have a certain amount of traffic, Hossack said.

He said a road along Lewis and Clark Lake and one along Lake McConaughy along with two or three others are possibilities.

Resolution Asks ICC To Refuse Railroad Request

A resolution asking the Interstate Commerce Commission to deny the Missouri Pacific Railway authority to remove passenger service between Omaha and Kansas City was introduced in the Nebraska Legislature Thursday.

The Resolution, No. 54, was authorized by S. S. Calista Cooper Hughes of Humboldt, Dale Payne of Papillion and William R. Skarda of Omaha.

The resolution was laid over for one day in accordance with Unicameral rules.

The resolution said the railroad now serves the Nebraska communities of Fort Crook, Plattsmouth, Union, Nebraska City, Auburn and Falls City on the Omaha-Kansas City route.

Suit Asks Court To Enjoin Use Of 'Tru-Treat' Name

A suit asking that the Tru-Treat Grapefruit Drink Co. of Lincoln be enjoined from using the name and trademark, "Tru-Treat," was on file Thursday in U.S. District Court.

The action was brought by the Tru-Ade Co., a California corporation with principal offices at Elgin, Ill.

The plaintiff firm alleges that the name "Tru-Treat" is "a colorable imitation" of the Tru-Ade trademark.

Statewide Power Study Proposal Being Considered

The Nebraska Power Review Board has taken under consideration a proposal by a Boston engineering firm to conduct a statewide power study in Nebraska.

The offer to make the study came from Charles T. Main, Inc., and three officials of that firm who met with review board members to discuss the possibility.

The firm said its proposed study would determine the most economical steps for providing future generation and transmission in Nebraska.

A number of items included in the proposal already have been included in a long-range power analysis scheduled to be made by a special committee of the Nebraska Power Industry Committee (NPIC).

The review board plans to forward the Boston firm's offer to the NPIC in the event the latter organization might be interested in having an impartial agency conduct a part of the forthcoming study or analyze the information which the NPIC gathers.

Senators Refuse To Revive Ban On Closed Meetings

The Legislature Thursday turned down an attempt to revive a measure prohibiting closed meetings of public bodies.

Sen. Terry Carpenter was rebuffed by a 13-30 margin in his effort to override the Miscellaneous Subjects Committee, which earlier killed LB790.

The bill would have opened all meetings of governmental bodies to both the press and the public.

Carpenter was supported by Omaha Sen. Sam Klaver who questioned why "public meetings should not be open to the public." Klaver noted that it was the "public's business" that is transacted by the governmental units.

But Sen. Cecil Craft of North Platte said the bill might tend to chase some meetings out of the public view.

Sen. Hal Bauer of Lincoln also opposed reviving the bill. "There is a time in the Legislature and other governing bodies when members should

Horses By Dozens Join Bands, Girls In Parade

Horses—dozens and dozens—paraded in the second annual Nebraska Land on Parade Thursday night through downtown Lincoln.

The parade had units from nearly every part of the state, advertising tourism in their area.

Besides horses, the parade included Indians, covered wagons, fiddlers, square dancers, a train, a showboat, and floats with log cabins, sod houses, oil wells, water skiers and other old west scenes.

High school bands, American Legion drum and bugle corps, clowns and pretty girls in convertibles were interspersed throughout the parade.

Movie and television star Dale Robertson had competition from Gov. Frank Morrison in winning applause from the thousands of onlookers.

Both rode on horses—Robertson with more finesse. Mayor Dean Petersen also came jogging along on horseback.

Storm Sewer For Southeast Area Sought

Acting Director of Public Works Robert Obering said Thursday that a $100,000-plus project to construct a storm sewer from 38th and A to 48th and Valley Road will be included in his department's capital improvements requests for fiscal 1965-66.

Obering was quick to point out, however, that the City Council has the final say in the matter, and even if the project is approved, construction would not begin until next year.

He acknowledged that the city has received many complaints from residents of the area, especially in the neighborhood of 40th and D, and said, "the existing sewers are simply inadequate; every time it clouds up it seems those people are flooded."

A comprehensive storm sewer survey, authorized by the City Council last September, should be completed by next year, Obering said.

The study will be a survey of drainage problems in every area of the city and could result in a full-scale project financed by a bond issue put to the people, or adding improvements on a pay-as-you-go basis.

Robertson Finds Nebraskans Entertaining

Television and motion picture western star Dale Robertson Thursday tagged the meeting of the Lincoln Sowers and the Omaha Tribe of Yessir, Chamber of Commerce clubs "spreading goodwill," the most "entertaining luncheon" he had ever attended.

"There are more comedians here than in Washington," he said.

The joint meeting was the occasion of the first visit of the Tribe of Yessir to the Capital City since 1935. Some 250 members were on hand to honor Robertson upon his selection as winner of the first annual Buffalo Bill Cody Award.

In a question and answer session at the luncheon and during a press conference which followed, Robertson fielded such queries as his age (42), political affiliation (registered Democrat) and what America needs most (a 40c cigar).

Robertson expressed his "love for working with quarter horses" on his 1,380-acre ranch, eagerly discussing questions concerning quarter horse history, breeding and prices.

Chamber of Commerce delegates congratulated the western star for providing a movie of "whole family entertainment," and Robertson replied that numerous quality films are desperately needed for youth.

Research Bill OK'd By Group

The Legislature's Agricultural Committee by a vote of 5-1 sent to the floor Thursday a bill which would remove the state's agriculture research program from the control of the State Agriculture Department.

LB807, introduced by Lincoln Sen. John Knight, received mixed testimony at an earlier hearing and had been held by the committee.

The bill would establish divisions of Nebraska agriculture research and Nebraska industrial research under control of an independent council.

Research would be financed through the present one-tenth mill agricultural research levy, which annually produces about $350,000.

Centralized Fund Control Bill Advanced

A bill to centralize revenue administration and control under the state tax commissioner was advanced to the floor by the Legislature's Government Committee Thursday.

The measure, LB172, was given 6-2 committee approval after it was amended.

The bill as originally drawn provided for the creation of a state department of revenue, with the tax commissioner as executive head, to direct collection of taxes and, along with the Justice Department, direct the tax law enforcement.

The committee amended the bill after William Peters, the state tax commissioner's counsel, suggested the revenue machinery be placed under the tax commissioner's office rather than under a new department.

LB172 as originally drawn was a product of an interim study headed by Hastings Sen. Richard Marvel.

Committee Proposes New Code

... FOR BUILDING

By BOB SCHREPF
Star Staff Writer

The city building code study committee voted Thursday to recommend that Lincoln adopt the Uniform Building Code, a document published by the International Conference of Building Officials.

Lincoln does not now use a model building code. It operates under a code similar to the Uniform, but which has not undergone any major revision since 1937.

The Uniform code received a 12-2 favorable vote over the Building Officials Conference of America (BOCA) code on a secret ballot. Two committee members were absent.

At the last meeting the committee decided to eliminate consideration of another model code, the National Building Code, or an effort to locally re-write Lincoln's existing code.

Next Steps

Committee Chairman Charles Seale said that the next steps would be:

—To give the City Council, which has final authority on adopting a code, background information on the Uniform code.

—To initiate subcommittee review of the Uniform Building Code and the present city code to see "what areas of the Uniform code we (the city) can't live with."

—To study the possibilities of updating the electrical code and adopting a national plumbing code.

Seale said that representatives of the Uniform code would offer some assistance in the analysis.

He said that if most of the sections of the Uniform were acceptable, and amendments could be kept at a minimum, the council could pass an ordinance adopting the code by reference.

Seale said that the committee wants to review mechanical standards to keep pace with the model building code which incorporates nationally recognized standards and procedures in building construction.

Reports Due

The next meeting of the committee has been set for June 22 at 7 p.m., at which time the subcommittees will submit reports.

Seale said that Chamber of Commerce representatives would be invited to the session.

A chamber committee has indicated interest in updating the present code and has argued that some provisions of the code have restricted Lincoln's ability to attract industry by requiring standards that result in prohibitive building costs.

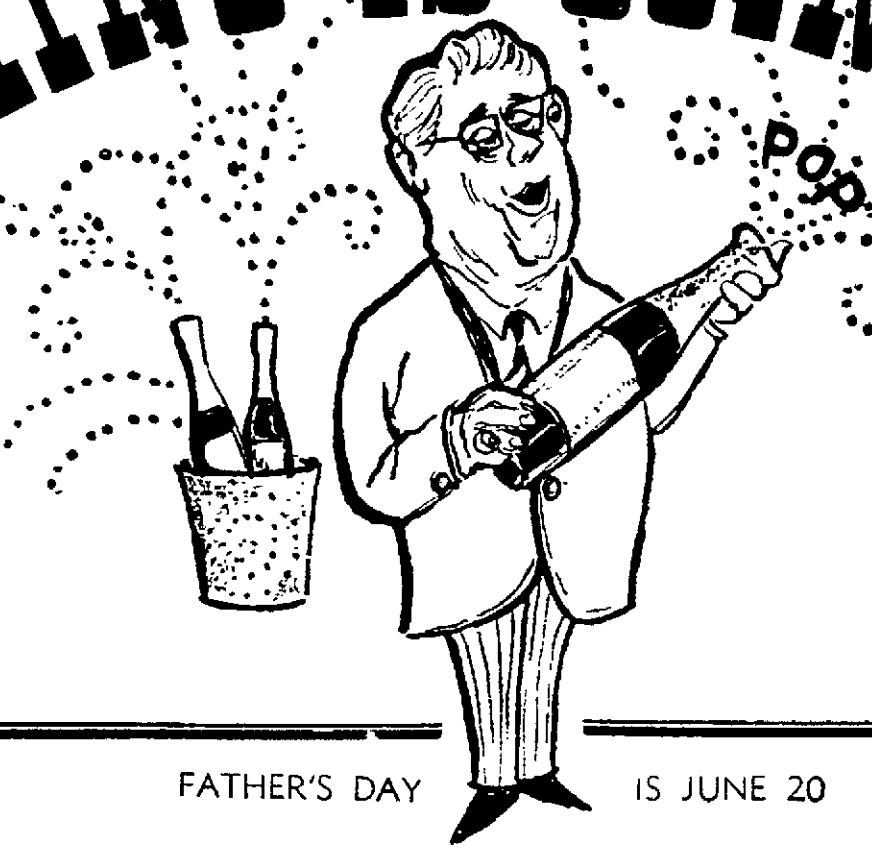

If the Uniform Building Code is adopted, Lincoln will become an active Class A member of the International Conference of Building Officials and will have equal voting privileges on suggested changes to the code.

The uniform code is maintained as a "living" document and is kept up to date to hold pace with new developments in the construction industry, according to literature published by the conference.

ABBY

husband's reason important

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Mine is a tremendously serious problem which faces many women today, I'm sure. I've been married 25 years and have been a good wife and mother. There were always cookies in the cookie jar, freshly done laundry in the drawers, and I've always

WHY GROW OLD?

Q. I have been on your diet for three months and have lost 27 pounds. I cheat once in a while, of course, but am quite pleased. I feel much better now. My only trouble is after supper. How many calories are in bread sticks and strawberry tarts?

A. Let's put it this way! There are too many. Don't even try with the idea. You are short and you weighed over 200 pounds to start with. As you yourself know, you still have a lot of weight to lose.

You have done a wonderful job and certainly could not have cheated very much. However I feel that you are weakening when you ask about these calories. Many women find that the before-bed snack and the snack while looking at T.V., when all the rest of the family is munching on wonderful items, are problems.

Nonsaboteurs

Have some carrot or celery sticks with a little garlic salt on them, a low-calorie soft drink and some cauliflower buds, dipped very lightly into sour cream which is seasoned with curry. You can munch on the buds and sticks to your heart's content without adding much to your daily calorie intake, and they are delicious. A glass of skim milk with a teaspoon of chocolate syrup won't sabotage your hopes.

Q. Is there any special food which will increase the size of the bust? I have heard that there is. I am 15 years old and want to have nice curves.

Trust Nature

A. There is no special food which will increase the size of your bust. Lots of any kind of food will. In other words, a gain of weight is reflected in the size of the bust. I wish they had some brain food. I would be one of their best customers! Give nature a little more time.

Q. I have heard that brushing the hair is good for oily hair as well as dry hair. Mine is oily, but when I brush it regularly it gets oilier. I have been trying this for a week.

A. The stimulation which brushing or massage provides is corrective to either a dry or an oily scalp. This tends to normalize either type. The brushing does spread the oil over the hair, but in time the condition should improve.

been home to take care of the children. I've loved every minute of it, but my youngest is now 14, and nobody really needs me any more. I am weary of the home-making routine, and long to take art lessons, and have pretty clothes, new furniture and more things for the children, etc. My husband is a wonderful, kind man who provides adequately for us, but we've never had any little luxuries or trips. I want to go to work. I know I could get a good office job. I'm a college graduate. My husband is against it. He wants me to wait until the youngest is gone. I'll be 50, and who would hire me then? Isn't it unfair of him to expect me to stay home and bake cookies that nobody wants anyhow, and keep on cleaning a house over and over when I could hire someone else to do it for me? With the extra income we could have two children in college comfortably. What do you think, Abby?

RARIN' TO GO

DEAR RARIN': WHY does your husband object? (This is important.) I think he is wrong if he wants to keep you close to home for only selfish reasons. But the most important thing in your life is your relationship with your husband. And if you can't make him see it your way and let you go to work with his sincere approval, then give up the idea.

DEAR ABBY: My French poodle is going to be four years old next Sunday. I would like to give her a surprise birthday party and invite some of her little playmates. Cheri isn't just an ordinary dog. She's an aristocrat and I have the papers to prove it. What should I serve? Have you any cute original ideas for a party of this kind?

CHERI'S MADAME

DEAR MADAME: IF you really want to put on the dog, make it black tie. Serve a "birthday cake" made of ground sirloin, and decorate it with crushed dog biscuits. And as for Cheri's "papers," better put them on the floor.

CONFIDENTIAL TO D.

IN MIDDLEFIELD: Honesty is, and always will be, the best policy. Tell your boy friend that the biggest block to success is his head.

BRIDGE

rebid by responder

B. Jay Becker

QUIZ

You are South, both sides vulnerable. The bidding has been:

North	East	South	West
1 ♠	Pass	1 ♠	Pass
2 ♣	Pass	?	?

What would you now bid with each of the following four hands?

1. ♠A94 ♥K82 ♦J73 ♣K62
2. ♠Q8742 ♥93 ♦J54 ♣QJ6
3. ♠K9653 ♥7 ♦QJ82 ♣KJ3
4. ♠AJ985 ♥KQ63 ♦6 ♣A84

1. Three notrump. There is a good chance of a slam, but there is nothing better to do at the moment, than jump to three notrump. Partner obviously has a good hand, since he bid his suits in reverse order and was willing to risk a three diamond preference if we happened to have a poor hand and better diamonds than hearts.

In the sequence shown, North is required to have longer diamonds than hearts as well as at least 17 points. All we can do at this point is mark time by leaping to three notrump. It would be wrong to bid only two notrump, because that bid might well be made with a hand containing some 4 or 5 points less than we actually have.

2. Three diamonds. Having barely enough values to have scraped up the first response, we should try to slow North down by bidding three diamonds. It is tempting to bid two notrump because of the club stopper, but there is a danger that partner will carry on in the expectation that our hand is better than it actually is. If North passes three diamonds, that is likely to be the best contract.

3. Four diamonds. Obviously, this hand is better than the previous one, and we can show the added values by making a jump preference to four diamonds. It is true that we are bypassing a conceivable three notrump game, but first there is no assurance that three notrump is safer than five diamonds, and second there is a slam possibility which ought to be encouraged.

If North has the A-K of diamonds and two side aces, as well as other values sufficient to justify a reverse, a slam is quite probable. In view of his strong bidding, this possibility cannot be ignored.

4. Three clubs. There can be no doubt that a small slam in hearts is certain; the problem is whether or not a grand slam can be made. Three clubs is a waiting bid as well as a cuebid, the chief purpose being to force North to reveal more about his hand. If the bidding develops favorably, we can bid the grand slam in hearts; if not, we will certainly undertake the small slam.

CLUBS Attendants Announced

The June meeting of the Hannah Dutton Chapter, Daughters of the American Colonists, will be held Saturday when the members will meet for a 1 o'clock luncheon at the University Club.

Whitney; corresponding secretary, Miss Willa Mae Ray; treasurer, Mrs. Marguerite R. Wadlow; and directors, Mrs. Keith Canfield and Miss Edna Broderson.

New officers of Irving Junior High School PTA were installed at the recent meeting of the unit, the last of the school year.

President for the coming year will be Stanley Maly, Jr., who will be assisted by Mrs. Maly, vice president; Mrs. Harold Rogers, second vice president; Mrs. Donald Nelson, secretary; and Mrs. Dale Griffing, treasurer.

deen Mueller, Omaha; Miss Sheila Mosher, Plainville, Kan.; and Miss Susan Cole. Mrs. Dennis Gold and Mrs. Harold Madsen will be brides-matrons for the 7:30 o'clock evening ceremony.

Lighting the candles will be Miss Mary Thorpe, Miss Emmagene Dunham, Miss Mary Morrow and Miss Janice Walt.

Serving Mr. Andreson as best man will be Joe Ham-bright of Plainville, and seating the guests will be Steven Petsch, Columbus; Russell Taylor, Bellevue; Jerry Hunt, Robert Schultz, Charles Elliott and Jim Nelson.

Lemons For Beauty

To keep your skin smooth and clear and your hair brilliant you need the natural cleansing and bleaching properties of lemon. Ask your druggist for a bottle of lemon Jelvyn, the latest lemon-type skin freshener that beautiful women are now using. Lemon Jelvyn is excellent for helping against yellowness of the hands and neck, for beautifying the complexion as it tones and melts away clogging of the surface pores and helps to maintain exquisitely fine textured skin, since it removes oily accumulations from the skin and helps wonderfully to tone and beautify the complexion. Lemon Jelvyn is excellent for a quick cleanse or to quell a greasy nose. A little lemon Jelvyn brushed on the hair after your shampoo will give it the glamour of sparkling diamonds. This is a luxury skin freshener and cleanser.

ABBY

husband's reason important

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Mine is a tremendously serious problem which faces many women today. I'm sure. I've been married 25 years and have been a good wife and mother. There were always cookies in the cookie jar, freshly done laundry in the drawers, and I've always

WHY GROW OLD?

Q. I have been on your diet for three months and have lost 27 pounds. I cheat once in a while, of course, but am quite pleased. I feel much better now. My only trouble is after supper. How many calories are in bread sticks and strawberry tarts?

A. Let's put it this way! There are too many. Don't even toy with the idea. You are short and you weighed over 200 pounds to start with. As you yourself know, you still have a lot of weight to lose.

You have done a wonderful job and certainly could not have cheated very much. However I feel that you are weakening when you ask about these calories. Many women find that the before-bed snack and the snack while looking at T.V., when all the rest of the family is munching on wonderful items, are problems.

Nonsaboteurs Have some carrot or celery sticks with a little garlic salt on them, a low-calorie soft drink and some cauliflower buds, dipped very lightly into sour cream which is seasoned with curry. You can munch on the buds and sticks to your heart's content without adding much to your daily calorie intake, and they are delicious. A glass of skim milk with a teaspoon of chocolate syrup won't sabotage your hopes.

Q. Is there any special food which will increase the size of the bust? I have heard that there is. I am 15 years old and want to have nice curves.

Trust Nature A. There is no special food which will increase the size of your bust. Lots of any kind of food will. In other words, a gain of weight is reflected in the size of the bust. I wish they had some brain food. I would be one of their best customers! Give nature a little more time.

Q. I have heard that brushing the hair is good for oily hair as well as dry hair. Mine is oily, but when I brush it regularly it gets oilier. I have been trying this for a week.

A. The stimulation which brushing or massage provides is corrective to either a dry or an oily scalp. This tends to normalize either type. The brushing does spread the oil over the hair, but in time the condition should improve.

been home to take care of the children. I've loved every minute of it, but my youngest is now 14, and nobody really needs me any more. I am weary of the home-making routine, and long to take art lessons, and have pretty clothes, new furniture and more things for the children, etc. My husband is a wonderful, kind man who provides adequately for us, but we've never had any little luxuries or trips. I want to go to work. I know I could get a good office job. I'm a college graduate. My husband is against it. He wants me to wait until the youngest is gone. I'll be 50, and who would hire me then? Isn't it unfair of him to expect me to stay home and bake cookies that nobody wants anyhow, and keep on cleaning a house over and over when I could hire someone else to do it for me? With the extra income we could have two children in college comfortably. What do you think, Abby?

RARIN' TO GO DEAR RARIN': WHY does your husband object? (This is important.) I think he is wrong if he wants to keep you close to home for only selfish reasons. But the most important thing in your life is your relationship with your husband. And if you can't make him see it your way and let you go to work with his sincere approval, then give up the idea.

DEAR ABBY: My French poodle is going to be four years old next Sunday. I would like to give her a surprise birthday party and invite some of her little playmates. Cheri isn't just an ordinary dog. She's an aristocrat and I have the papers to prove it. What should I serve? Have you any cute original ideas for a party of this kind?

CHERI'S MADAME DEAR MADAME: IF you really want to put on the dog, make it black tie. Serve a "birthday cake" made of ground sirloin, and decorate it with crushed dog biscuits. And as for Cheri's "papers," better put them on the floor.

CONFIDENTIAL TO D. IN MIDDLEFIELD: Honesty is, and always will be, the best policy. Tell your boy friend that the biggest block to success is his head.

BRIDGE

rebid by responder

B. Jay Becker

QUIZ You are South, both sides vulnerable. The bidding has been:

North	East	South	West
1 ♠	Pass	1 ♠	Pass
2 ♣	Pass	?	Pass

What would you now bid with each of the following four hands?

1. ♠A94 ♥K82 ♦J73 ♣K62
2. ♠Q8742 ♥93 ♦J54 ♣QJ6
3. ♠K9653 ♥7 ♦QJ82 ♣KJ3
4. ♠AJ985 ♥KQ63 ♦6 ♣A84

1. Three notrump. There is a good chance of a slam, but there is nothing better to do at the moment, than jump to three notrump. Partner obviously has a good hand, since he bid his suits in reverse order and was willing to risk a three diamond preference if we happened to have a poor hand and better diamonds than hearts.

In the sequence shown, North is required to have longer diamonds than hearts as well as at least 17 points. All we can do at this point is mark time by leaping to three notrump. It would be wrong to bid only two notrump, because that bid might well be made with a hand containing some 4 or 5 points less than we actually have.

2. Three diamonds. Having barely enough values to have scraped up the first response, we should try to slow North down by bidding three diamonds. It is tempting to bid two notrump because of the club stopper, but there is a danger that partner will carry on in the expectation that our hand is better than it actually is. If North passes three diamonds, that is likely to be the best contract.

3. Four diamonds. Obviously, this hand is better than the previous one, and we can show the added values by making a jump preference to four diamonds. It is true that we are bypassing a conceivable three notrump game, but first there is no assurance that three notrump is safer than five diamonds, and second there is a slam possibility which ought to be encouraged.

If North has the A-K of diamonds and two side aces, as well as other values sufficient to justify a reverse, a slam is quite probable. In view of his strong bidding, this possibility cannot be ignored.

4. Three clubs. There can be no doubt that a small slam in hearts is certain; the problem is whether or not a grand slam can be made. Three clubs is a waiting bid as well as a cuebid, the chief purpose being to force North to reveal more about his hand. If the bidding develops favorably, we can bid the grand slam in hearts; if not, we will certainly undertake the small slam.

CLUBS Attendants Announced

The June meeting of the Hannah Duston Chapter, Daughters of the American Colonists, will be held Saturday when the members will meet for a 1 o'clock luncheon at the University Club.

A guest of the chapter and program speaker will be Mrs. John L. Barton of Omaha, state regent of the Nebraska Society of the organization.

Mrs. Milton L. Flack, chapter vice regent, will preside and hostesses will be Mrs. C. C. Cartney and Mrs. Levi Gay.

The Altrusa Club of Lincoln will hold its annual business meeting Monday evening following a 6 o'clock dinner at the Kopper Kettle.

Annual reports will be given, and the following new officers will be installed: president, Mrs. Willard N. Duni-gan; vice president, Mrs. Henry O. Cronkite; recording secretary, Miss Verna A. Whitney; corresponding secretary, Miss Willa Mae Ray; treasurer, Mrs. Marguerite R. Wadlow; and directors, Mrs. Keith Canfield and Miss Edna Broderson.

New officers of Irving Junior High School PTA were installed at the recent meeting of the unit, the last of the school year.

President for the coming year will be Stanley Maly, Jr., who will be assisted by Mrs. Maly, vice president; Mrs. Harold Rogers, second vice president; Mrs. Donald Nelson, secretary; and Mrs. Dale Griffing, treasurer.

Representing the unit on the PTA Council will be Mrs. Alan Ihms.

of the suburban areas

Annual Meeting Of NAA

There always may be more to a story than what meets the eye on the printed page.

We have in mind the Nebraska Art Association—and its meeting this morning. We said yesterday that the Nebraska Art Association board would be meeting on Friday morning at the Sheldon Memorial Art Gallery. That much is true—but the rest of the story is that the board meeting will be preceded by the annual meeting of the Association's membership—at 10:30 o'clock.

son and David again boarded their car and drove to Concordia, Kan., to spend Sunday and Monday visiting with Mr. Larson's mother, Mrs. Ruth Larson, and other members of Mr. Larson's family.

Mr. and Mrs. Clinton A. Hoover and their children, Kimberly, Shelley and Clark, spent the Memorial Day weekend out-of-town, visiting in North Platte and Wallace. Mrs. Hoover's mother, Mrs. Florence Murray, also accompanied them to the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Coder and family, friends of Mr. and Mrs. Hoover who live in North Platte; and to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Perry Singleton of Wallace.

Suburban areas well may be a mecca for guests—but it also seems to be a popular starting point for travels. As a matter of fact news of guests and travelers is pretty well balanced in the news from three of our areas this morning.

HOLLYWOOD HEIGHTS

Miss Maureen Draver, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Draver, left by plane on Sunday, May 30, to visit her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. James Carlson and their family, of Houston, Tex.

Miss Draver will be joined in Houston a month from now by her parents who will drive to Houston to visit with their son-in-law and daughter and accompany their daughter home.

EASTBOROUGH

The tables were turned last weekend when guests from out-of-town arrived in Lincoln and showed their host and hostess around the town. Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Blair and their son, Michael, are new residents on West Rio Road, having come from Wichita, Kan., in mid-May, and are not yet thoroughly acquainted with the city.

But one of their weekend guests, Mrs. Lael Daggetts, is a former resident of Lincoln and well able to show the city to her host and hostess. Mr. and Mrs. Daggetts and their two year old daughter, Dena, arrived Saturday afternoon and stayed until Monday. Both the new residents and the weekend visitors were friends in Wichita where Mr. and Mrs. Daggetts now reside.

MEADOW LANE

Mr. and Mrs. Richard D. Harris and their son, Richard, 21 months old, were guests at dinner on Thursday, May 27, at the home of their new neighbors, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Hartman, in Meadow Lane. That was the day that Mr. and Mrs. Harris and Richard moved into the neighborhood. They've come from Raleigh, N.C., and spent a week at Holiday Inn until they found their new home at 8310 Vine St.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Lee Kennedy and their sons, Mark and Bruce, left on Monday for a three weeks stay in Richmond, Va., where they will be the guests of Mrs. Kennedy's parents.

And just back from a two-weeks vacation spent in Albany, N.Y., are Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Larson and their son David. They arrived home last Friday after visiting with Mr. and Mrs. John Phillips and their sons, Greg and John, former residents of Lincoln.

While on the east coast the travelers and Mr. and Mrs. Phillips spent a weekend at Cape Cod, and Martha's Vineyard. En route to Albany Mr. and Mrs. Larson and their son, stopped at Niagara Falls.

Hardly Worth Mentioning, But . . .

In some respects the silly feud between the AAU and the NCAA that threatens to last longer than the war on poverty hardly deserves mention.

But in other respects, one cannot ignore the ramifications that go with the power struggle over control of amateur athletics.

Minor problems confronting our nation's minds such as a cure for cancer, getting a man on the moon, solving the farm problem, the poverty problem and other lesser difficulties may be solved before the alphabet war ends.

All aspects of the feud are more complicated than a put-it-together-yourself outdoor grill. But one thing stands out above all the double-talk over dual sanctioning, suspensions and threats.

The only clear-cut thing in the whole dispute is that the fellow being hurt is the athlete plus American prestige. Certainly there are more important things in the world than beating the Russians in a track meet this summer.

If we had to choose between having our .093 dash man working on a physics problem or running the 100-yard dash, we'd prefer that he work on physics. But if the choice is merely between whether he goes with or against the AAU, then it gets a little silly if the United States is not represented by the best available.

AAU In Driver's Seat

The AAU is clearly in the driver's seat because it has the backing of the international organizations, a necessity in international competition.

The NCAA is in the position of the office clerk, who is trying to gain a seat at the board of director's table.

The NCAA-backed Federation which hasn't been on the losing side often may come out of the current battle with blood on its nose since it is in the position of having to take the steps that make it look bad in the eyes of the public.

The NCAA has warned all its member institutions and their athletes that they face suspension if they compete in the AAU championships this summer at San Diego.

The AAU which has the last word on this says the U.S. team that will compete against Russia will be picked at these championships and if a boy wants to be on the team, he must compete in the AAU meet.

Now, who gets hurt here? It certainly is not the officials of the two groups. It's the Charlie Greens who get hurt.

AAU Has Dirty Shoes Also

While the AAU is not in as great a danger of coming up with egg on its face on the national scene, the group is throwing plenty of mud locally.

You can start with the threat from the Midwestern AAU to high school girls who wanted to compete in the Mid-states Federation Meet at Cozad.

Four athletes who competed in the Kansas Relays—Hylye van der Wal, Kent Floerke, Phil Mulkey and Jack Nester—have been suspended for not obtaining AAU approval to compete, approval that would not have been given even if it had been requested. Has something to do with the AAU's silly idea that meets cannot have dual sanction.

Van der Wal, who has done some of his running for Kearney State among other institutions of higher learning, best sums up the athletes' point of view on the feud. "All I want to do is get eligible," he says. "I want to run."

"I have been selected to go on a Canadian Union of Students track tour to Budapest, Hungary, this summer. If I can't get this (the AAU suspension) straightened out, I won't be able to go."

"I am fighting for my life as a runner now just because the grown men running the USTFF and the AAU can't settle their petty differences. I'm the pawn that's getting hurt because of their battle, he concluded."

Van der Wal is not the only pawn. Both groups are acting like the spoiled kid at the end of the block who won't let you use his baseball unless he can be the first batter.

—TWINS TOP BOSTON, 4-3—

Pascual Registers 7th Straight Win

St. Paul-Minneapolis (A) — Unbeaten Camilo Pascual, supported by Bob Allison's two-run homer, registered his seventh straight victory Thursday as the Minnesota Twins defeated the Boston Red Sox 4-3.

Pascual needed relief help in the eighth inning from Johnny Klippstein who, in turn, had to have bullpen help from southpaw Mel Nelson in the ninth.

Pascual had a two-hitter and a 3-1 lead when Boston rallied for a run in the eighth on singles by Lennie Green, Dalton Jones and Felix Mantilla. Billy Pless came on to retire a man on a sacrifice before Klippstein took over. The veteran right-hander struck out Tony Conigliaro and got Mike Ryan to ground out.

The Twins took a 4-2 lead into the bottom of the ninth scoring an unearned run in the top of the inning.

The Red Sox threatened in the bottom of the ninth when Green singled on top of a one-out walk to Eddie Bressoud. Nelson replaced Klippstein and retired the side, although Bressoud scored the Red Sox' third run on an error by third baseman Rich Rollins.

Minnesota bunched four of its hits in the second to score three runs. Jimmie Hall singled with one out, and Allison belted his eighth homer 410 feet to right-center. Rich Rollins doubled and scored on Pascual's single. Boston counted in the fourth as Lee Thomas tripled over Tony Oliva's head and scored on Bob Tillman's sacrifice fly.

Washington State represents District 8 where Southern Cal and Stanford were favored.

Washington State won with a 31-6 season record despite mediocre slumps on the part of most of its returning hitters. But when you speak of slumps with Washington State, you are referring to slumping from averages such as 3.97, .350 and .338.

They are led this year by catcher John Olerud with a .341 average including seven home runs and 33 RBIs. Olerud filled the shoes vacated by the nation's fourth leading hitter last year, Bob Garretson at .448.

The "slumpers" on the College World Series-bound squad are Dale (The Whale) Ford, who dropped from .397 to .339; centerfielder Bob Fry, who fell from .338 to .305 and second baseman Gary Strom, whose average fell to .297 this year after hitting at a .350 pace in 1964.

First baseman Hal Brunstad was the third leading hitter this year with his .315 mark putting him behind Olerud and Ford.

With Olerud, Ford and Brunstad batting in the 3-4-5 spots, Washington State presents as tough a trio in the middle of the batting order as you'll find at Omaha.

Olerud and Ford tied for the RBI leadership with 33 while Brunstad added 23.

Washington State coach Chuck Brayton who has run into some arm troubles with his pitching staff found an ace in the bullpen near the end of the season.

Brayton expects to start Mike Avey in the 2 p.m. game against Texas Monday. Avey, a lefthander was used strictly in relief until the sore arm problems hit.

After compiling a 3-0 mark in 10 relief appearances, Avey was given a starting shot against Washington in the regular season finale and came through with a six-hit 2-1 win.

He then started one of the playoff games against Stanford and won, 2-1, with a four-hitter. Avey comes into the College World Series with a 0.49 ERA.

The two pitchers whose availability is doubtful because of sore arms are Bob Salsbury, a lefthander with a 7-1 record and an 0.72 ERA, and Doug Lukens, with a 3-0 record who has pitched only two innings since the middle of April because of a sore elbow.

Another hurler, who helped Washington State to the conference title with a 7-1 record and a 1.48 ERA, is Dan Friesalla who will be ineligible for the College World Series under NCAA rules because he is a sophomore junior college transfer.

The western team is making its third appearance in the College World Series, having finished second to Texas in 1950, and losing its first two games in 1956.

Lafayette, a small eastern school from Easton, Pa., is the smallest college in the tournament with an all-male enrollment of 1,600.

But the team is making its fourth appearance as the District 2 representative. Lafayette appeared in Omaha in 1953-54-55.

They are led this year by Don Lordan, a righthanded pitcher who plays in the outfield in his spare time. Lordan is the club's leading hitter with a .377 average and is the winningest pitcher at 8-2 with a 2.41 ERA.

Filling out the starting pitcher rotation are John Ireland, a righthander with a 5-1 record and a 1.92 ERA, and righthander Preston Dendy at 3-2 with a 2.28 earned run average.

Backing up Lordan in the stick department are shortstop Walt Manuel at .312 and Ron Cacioppe, a third baseman who is hitting .305.

The eastern school's main strength is the pitching of Lordan and a top double play combination in Manuel and second baseman Ed Kaminski.

Lafayette brings a 16-6 record to the College World Series.

Bold Bidder's Presence Adds Zip To Belmont

. . . STRETCH DUEL ANTICIPATED

New York (A)—Early zip was added to Saturday's renewal of the $125,000-added Belmont Stakes Thursday, setting up the prospect of another thrilling stretch duel between Tom Rolfe and Dapper Dan with Rolfe at All ready to cash in on his stretch running charge if either falter.

With the remark "I want to keep them honest," trainer Bill Winfrey announced he would enter the Wheatley Stable's Bold Bidder, a fleet son of Bold Ruler, as a running mate for Ogden Phipps' fast closing Dapper Dan.

Until Winfrey decided to start Bold Bidder, the 1½ miles of the third leg of the Triple Crown for 3-year-olds at Aqueduct threatened to be not much more than a mere gallop for one mile with all the action coming in the last half mile.

Bold bidder, who'll be ridden by Braulio Baeza, didn't race as a 2-year-old but in his six starts this year, all at spring distances, he has been first three times.

He'll have only one purpose—to carry the small field through a rapid first mile. Then it'll be up to Dapper Dan to carry on. In the Preakness the son of Ribot came from far off the early pace to drop a neck decision to Tom Rolfe, from Raymond Guest's Powhatan Stable. Bold Bidder gave evidence of his speed by working seven furlongs in 1:26 Thursday with the first six furlongs in 1:13.

Hail to All, who won last Monday's Jersey Derby for Mrs. Ben Cohen, also likes to come from behind. But the style didn't net him anything more than numerous seconds and thirds until the Jersey Derby. In that 1½-mile race he wore blinkers for the first time and in the opinion of jockey Johnny Sellers they made the difference. The son of Hail to Reason will wear blinkers again Saturday.

In addition to Bold Bidder, Aqueduct officials received word from trainer Casey Hayes Thursday that he would enter First Family from C. T. Chenery's Meadow Stable.

First Family ran sixth in the Jersey Derby but Hayes said "We're throwing out that race. He apparently didn't like the track." Larry Adams will ride with instructions from Hayes to try and take the lead at the start.

The entry list Friday morning also is expected to include Lawrence Katz's Selari, third in the Jersey Derby, and J. R. Straus' stalwart but lightly raced La Cima.

"Guess I'll have to change our tactics," said La Cima's trainer, Homer Pardue, on hearing that Winfrey was sending out Bold Bidder to set the early pace. Pardue originally had planned to let La Cima cut out the early pace even though he has shown best at coming from behind.

"I like him because of his potential," said jockey Bobby Ussery, who'll be astride La Cima. The son of Renegade had raced only five times, winning the last two including one at 1½ miles.

With seven starters, the 97th running of the Belmont will be worth $146,650 with $102,900 going to the winner. Post time is 3:15 p.m. CST.

National television CBS is scheduled for 3:30-3 and radio from 3:10-3:30.

Leads Track Trainers

Arnold Winick has led the Gulfstream Park trainers in most victories in six of the last seven years.

Grand Blanc, Mich. (A)—Steve Spray, who received his college degree Thursday night, gave himself a graduation present earlier in the day by taking the first round lead in the $100,000 Buick Open Golf Tournament.

The 24-year-old Spray parlayed his long runs and a hot putter for a four-under-par 68 over the 7,280-yard Warwick Hills Country Club course, longest of the PGA tour.

He was to receive the degree of bachelor of business administration in absentia from Eastern New Mexico University. He has not earned a cent in the six tournaments he has played since joining the pro circuit last March.

The former Western Junior champ took only 26 putts and had 10 one-putt greens in his sizzling round Thursday. Former Buick Open champion Julius Boros held the runner-up spot with a 69.

Jack Nicklaus, Johnny Pott, Bert Weaver, Gene Littler, Doug Sanders and Wright Garrett were in a six-way tie for third with 70s.

Defending champion Tony Lama had a 71. Arnold Palmer and Gary Player settled for 73s. U.S. Open champion Ken Venturi, tuning up for defense of his title, shot a 76.

Stock Prices Take Another Sharp Loss

New York (AP)—A vigorous rally soon lost its steam and the stock market took another sharp loss Thursday — its third straight.

The market showed all the earmarks of a buying spree at the start. Prices bounced ahead in a resumption of the late recovery move which had cut the losses of the preceding session.

This was regarded by brokers as a "technical rally" since nothing had changed in the news background to justify a dramatic change in market values.

By the end of the first hour, however, the market had lost its steam. Gains slipped away and the market was mixed at best and by close it was lower.

Dow Jones industrial average, which had been up by 6.18 at the end of the first hour — closed with a net loss of 1.44 at 2,307.46.

The price of trading, though was fastest when prices were rising, slowed when prices were falling, and this was encouraging to those investors who believe that the basic market trend is up, despite the downturn of the past four weeks.

Turnover was 5.711 million shares compared with 5.3 million Wednesday.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks declined 2.1 to 327.9 with industrial group down 2.4 to 327.9 and utilities up 0.1 to 327.9.

Of 1,375 issues traded, 655 declined and 720 advanced. New highs for the year total 23 and new lows, 17.

Seven of the 15 most active stocks declined, six advanced and two were unchanged.

Prices declined irregularly on the New York Stock Exchange. Volume was 1.2 million shares compared with 1.1 million Wednesday.

Corporate bonds continued their decline. U.S. Treasury bonds generally were higher.

Stock Prices Take Another Sharp Loss

New York (AP)—A vigorous early rally soon lost its steam and the stock market took another sharp loss Thursday — its third straight.

The market showed all the earmarks of a buying spree at the start. Prices bounced ahead in a resumption of the late recovery move which had cut the losses of the preceding session.

"Technical rally" by brokers as a "technical rally" since nothing much changed in the news about stock values. The attitude toward stock values.

By the end of the first hour, however, the boom was over. Gains slowly melted away. By 10:30 a.m. the market was mixed at best and by the close it was lower.

The Dow Jones industrial average, which had been up by 6.18 at the end of the first hour, closed with a net loss of 4.84 at 889.22.

The price of trading, though was fastest when prices were rising, slowed when they were falling, and this was encouraging to those investors who believe the market trend is up, despite the downturn of the past four weeks.

Turnover was 3.711 million shares compared with 3.5 million Wednesday. The Associated Press average of 60 stocks declined 22.50 points, 21.25 to 21.00, a 3.2 fall from 1.4 to another new low for the year and utilities off 1.375.

Of 1,375 issues traded, 665 declined and 710 advanced. New highs for the year totaled 33 and new lows 39. Seven of the 15 most active stocks declined, 33 advanced and two were unchanged.

Prices declined irregularly on the New York Stock Exchange. Volume was 1.62 million shares, compared with 1.88 million Wednesday.

Some buyers continued their decline. U.S. Treasury bonds generally were higher.

1-3 Year Term OK Even If Not In Law

The State Justice Department informed State Penitentiary Warden Maurice Sigler Thursday that when a person is sentenced to one to three years for a criminal offense although statutes permit a penalty of only one to two years, the sentence is erroneous but valid.

The department held that in such cases, the sentence remains valid and enforceable for the maximum period authorized by law. After that, the judgment becomes inoperative.

The department said an inmate could successfully bring habeas corpus action if his detention continued after the maximum period authorized by law.

In answer to a second question from Sigler, the department said that when a person is properly committed for a term of one to three years and then returned for resentencing to a definite term, the resentencing is void.

The department said a court does not have jurisdiction to resentence any inmate after commitment. However, the department noted that a new postconviction remedy procedure enacted by the Legislature recently provides the method by which inmates who feel rights have been violated can seek a resentencing.

Father Demuth To Be Assistant At New Church

The Catholic Chancery announced Thursday that Father James A. Demuth, newly ordained priest, will be assistant pastor at the Cathedral of the Risen Christ.

Father Melvin L. Rempe also recently ordained, will be assistant pastor at St. Cecilia's Church in Hastings.

Father John C. Obrist, secretary to the bishop, will also serve as chancellor.

Gov. Morrison Cited For Service

Omaha—Gov. Frank Morrison Thursday received an "award of recognition for his services in the area of recreation," presented by Joseph Pentegast of New York City, executive director of the National Recreation Association (NRA).

The award was presented under the auspices of the Nebraska Park and Recreation Committee. Two Omahans also received awards from the NRA under the auspices of the Omaha Recreation Advisory Committee.

Leaders in recreation in Omaha, Lincoln and Fremont attended the luncheon presentations. Mrs. Clifford Jorgenson, chairman of the Lincoln Area Council PTA recreation committee, said.

Seven From State Receive Danforth Study Fellowships

Seven Nebraskans are among the 914 recipients of Danforth Foundation fellowships for 1965-66. The fellowships are given to graduate students working on doctoral degrees in college teaching and administration.

James G. Bastian Jr. of Crete and Frederick C. Luebke of Seward received Danforth Teacher Grants which are given to full-time college faculty members.

The five others received Danforth Graduate Fellowships. They are Lawrence C. Becker of Fremont, Robert H. Hill of Lincoln, William C. Nelsen of Omaha, John Perry of Crete and Maris A. Vinovskis of Omaha.
